ATLAS PROJECT

Looking Across The Horizon

Futures Forum
March 22, 2011
3-4 pm
Room 2734

Technology is shaping the way we work, learn and play. Pervasive social collaboration, combined with tremendous technological advancement in recent years, has created exciting opportunities for us all.

This Futures Forum will take a look at how our world is changing and the role of education in this new paradigm. Recent research will be reviewed to forecast the technologies of tomorrow and how they will emerge in education.

Lastly, IVC's roadmap for embracing these technologies will be discussed.

Refreshments will be served.
Everyone is invited!
