Tie-Breaker Information:

Directions:

1. Enter the full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment for Fall, 2002. Calculate FTE enrollment as follows:
  - * Total the number of full-time students in Fall 2002. This number is the FTE of full-time students. A "full-time student" is, for undergraduates, one whose academic load (course work and other required activity) is at least 75% of the normal full-time load at the institution. For graduate students, one FTE is one whose academic load, course work, and other required activities, totals at least 9 credit hours.
  - * Total the FTE of part-time students. Add the total number of credit hours of all part-time undergraduate students enrolled in Fall 2002, then divide that number by 12. The result is the FTE of part-time undergraduate students. Do the same for graduate students but divide the total by 9. Then add the two numbers to get the total FTE of part-time students.
  - * Add the FTE of full-time students and the FTE of part-time students. The result is the FTE enrollment for Fall 2002.
    - 1.a) Enter the total market value of the institution's endowment at the end of the college's base fiscal year (2002-03).
    - 1.b) Enter the total expenditures for library materials during the base year (2002-03).

NOTE: Failure to provide information requested in items 1.a) and 1.b) above may result in the Department not considering the application under a tie-breaking situation.

OTHER BUDGET INFORMATION FOR SUMMARY BUDGET

1. Name of Applicant Institution: N/A

2. Activity Title: Expanding Career Opportunities for Rural Hispanics: New 2+2 (Associate's to Bachelor's) Degree Programs

3. Remarks:

Summary Budget Information:

The salaries for full-time professional staff noted in this application are based upon an assumed 5% annual increment for the subsequent years of the Project.

The fringe benefits rate at Imperial Valley College is standardized at 33% and at San Diego State University-Imperial Valley at 22% for overload and 40% for regular load and release time for all full-time employees to be compensated for Title V work. This figure includes FICA, retirement, medical insurance premium, life insurance, unemployment insurance, and Workmen's Compensation.

Institutional policies for grant-related travel are to be followed for all Title V travel, within California and out-of-state. Imperial Valley College's travel policies require the purchase of economy/coach tickets for all airline travel, and sets specific limits for mileage and per diem reimbursements. Lodging is reimbursed at actual cost, based on lowest available rates. At San Diego State, all travel will be consistent with SDSU Foundation policy, which similarly limits mileage, per diem, air fare and lodging expenses. Both institutions, for instance, allow employees $35 per diem. All expenditures listed in this application are in accordance with these policies.

Both institutions adhere to local and state policies governing procurement procedures for the purchase of equipment and supplies, which are more restrictive than those requirements set forth in EDGAR. None of the expenditures listed reach the threshold required for competitive bidding.

The grantee will also abide by all applicable local and state policies and procedures governing the selection and payment of consultants, which required competitive bids for any contract beyond $15,000.

Section 427 of GEPA

NOTICE TO ALL APPLICANTS

The purpose of this enclosure is to inform you about a new provision in the Department of Education's General Education Provisions Act (GEPA) that applies to applicants for new grant awards under Department programs. This provision is Section 427 of GEPA, enacted as part of the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994 (Public Law (P. L.) 103-382).

To Whom Does This Provision Apply?

Section 427 of GEPA affects applicants for new grant awards under this program. ALL APPLICANTS FOR NEW AWARDS MUST INCLUDE INFORMATION IN THEIR APPLICATIONS TO ADDRESS THIS NEW PROVISION IN ORDER TO RECEIVE FUNDING UNDER THIS PROGRAM.

(If this program is a State-formula grant program, a State needs to provide this description only for projects or activities that it carries out with funds reserved for State-level uses. In addition, local school districts or other eligible applicants that apply to the State for funding need to provide this description in their applications to the State for funding. The State would be responsible for ensuring that the school district or other local entity has submitted a sufficient section 427 statement as described below.)

What Does This Provision Require?

Section 427 requires each applicant for funds (other than an individual person) to include in its application a description of the steps the applicant proposes to take to ensure equitable access to, and participation in, its Federally-assisted program for students, teachers, and other program beneficiaries with special needs. This provision allows applicants discretion in developing the required description. The statute highlights six types of barriers that can impede equitable access or participation: gender, race, national origin, color, disability, or age. Based on local circumstances, you should determine whether these or other barriers may prevent your students, teachers, etc. from such access or participation in, the Federally-funded project or activity. The description in your application of steps to be taken to overcome these barriers need not be lengthy; you may provide a clear and succinct description of how you plan to address those barriers that are applicable to your circumstances. In addition, the information may be provided in a single narrative, or, if appropriate, may be discussed in connection with related topics in the application.

Section 427 is not intended to duplicate the requirements of civil rights statutes, but rather to ensure that, in designing their projects, applicants for Federal funds address equity concerns that may affect the ability of certain potential beneficiaries to fully participate in the project and to achieve to high standards. Consistent with program requirements and its approved application, an applicant may use the Federal funds awarded to it to eliminate barriers it identifies.

What are Examples of How an Applicant Might Satisfy the Requirement of This Provision?

The following examples may help illustrate how an applicant may comply with Section 427.

- (1) An applicant that proposes to carry out an adult literacy project serving, among others, adults with limited English proficiency, might describe in its application how it intends to distribute a brochure about the proposed project to such potential participants in their native language.
- (2) An applicant that proposes to develop instructional materials for classroom use might describe how it will make the materials available on audio tape or in braille for students who are blind.
- (3) An applicant that proposes to carry out a model science program for secondary students and is concerned that girls may be less likely than boys to enroll in the course, might indicate how it intends to conduct "outreach" efforts to girls, to encourage their enrollment.

We recognize that many applicants may already be implementing effective steps to ensure equity of access and participation in their grant programs, and we appreciate your cooperation in responding to the requirements of this provision.

Estimated Burden Statement for GEPA Requirements

According to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, no persons are required to respond to a collection of information unless such collection displays a valid OMB control number. The valid OMB control number for this information collection is 1890-0007. The time required to complete this information collection is estimated to average 1.5 hours per response, including the time to review instructions, search existing data resources, gather the data needed, and complete and review the information collection. If you have any comments concerning the accuracy of the time estimate(s) or suggestions for improving this form, please write to: Director, Grants Policy and Oversight Staff, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW (Room 3652, GSA Regional Office Building No. 3). ### GEPA Narrative (Section 427)

IVC and SDSU-IV's Title V project will ensure equitable access to, and participation in, its federally assisted programs for students, instructors, and other program beneficiaries with special needs. The new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs will be open to all interested students, no matter their gender, race, national origin, color, disability, or age. Some of the Title V funded laboratory equipment will be installed so that it is accessible to disabled students in wheelchairs. Both institutions are ADA compliant.

The RN to BSN program will encourage students to strengthen their Spanish skills to better serve Imperial County residents, who are over 70% Hispanic. In addition, the nursing program will welcome ADNs who may be older than traditional students. The program will schedule courses to complement working ADNs' and RNs' schedules.

Since the average age of students at both IVC and SDSU-IV is 27, scheduling courses to meet the work demands of nontraditional students will also be pursued in the associate's to bachelor's degree program in computer science.

Also, since both IV and SDSU-IV serve a primarily Latina student body, courses in the bachelor's degree program in computer science will be taught in a non-patriarchal way that helps to end the under-representation of women, and especially of minority women, in science careers. The project director and the IVC computer science program coordinator are women scientists who can serve as models for female success in math and science.

ABSTRACT

Expanding Career Opportunities for Rural Hispanics: New 2+2 (Associate's to Bachelor's) Degree Programs in Imperial County, California

Imperial Valley College (IVC) is the only community college in rural Imperial County, the poorest county in California. Its partner in this collaboration is San Diego State University-Imperial Valley (SDSU-IV), the only other postsecondary institution in Imperial County. Hispanics comprise 84% of the students at IVC and SDSU-IV. Contact person: Dr. Lianna Zhao, Chair, Science, Mathematics and Engineering Division, Imperial Valley College, 380 E. Aten Rd., P. O. Box 158, Imperial, CA 92251, (760)355-6476 office, (760)355-6143 fax, lianna.zhao@imperial.edu

This project permanently expands the pipeline to educational attainment and professional careers for Hispanic and low-income students through creating 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs in computer science and nursing. These new programs will also meet desperate county needs for computer professionals and BSN nurses. As a result, economic development and healthcare will improve in this border county, with its rates of childhood asthma and tuberculosis that are twice California's rates. Project outcomes include: at least 55 Hispanics with a bachelor's degree in either computer science or nursing by 9/30/10; at least 275 students enrolled in the new programs at IVC and SDSU-IV by 9/30/10; 75% of IVC students in the new programs in fall 2006/2007 ready to transfer to a university by 9/30/10; 13% increase in total number of IVC students who transfer to the four-year institutions compared to 2001-2002; 25% increase in total number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV compared to 2001-2002; FTE 20% higher than in 2004-05 at IVC and SDSU-IV.

The Activity request totals $3,016,296 over five years, with $1,298,281 (43%) to be spent on IVC activities and $1,718,015 (57%) at SDSU-IV. Across the colleges, 79.6% of the request ($2,400,245) will be spent on new faculty, project staff, and consultants, and 19.7% ($594,851) on laboratory equipment, instructional and other supplies, computers, and software. About 1.2% ($37,300) will be spent on travel. IVC requests $462,236 for the management and evaluation component, with 90.8% of that expended on personnel costs and the remainder on operating costs and external evaluation.

INSTITUTIONAL NARRATIVE

Characteristics of Partner Institutions

Imperial Valley College (IVC) and San Diego State University-Imperial Valley Campus (SDSU-IV) are Hispanic Serving Institutions and members of the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities (HACU). IVC and SDSU-IV are the only postsecondary institutions serving Imperial County, California, a rural area of reclaimed desert about the size of Connecticut. California's southern-most county has the highest percentage of Hispanics (72%) and is the poorest of the state's 58 counties (Imperial Valley Press, January 27, 2002).

Imperial Valley residents complete their lower-division coursework at IVC, and transfer to SDSU-IV to continue their education. Students who completed their lower-division coursework at IVC constitute over 90% of SDSU-IV students. Both IVC and SDSU-IV are committed to meeting our mission of providing access to quality educational opportunities for residents of Imperial County.

| College Mission Statements  |  |

| IVC   | SDSU-IV  |
| The mission of Imperial Valley College is to foster excellence in education that challenges students of every background to develop their intellect, character, and abilities; to assist students in achieving their educational and career goals; and to be responsive to the greater community. | The mission of SDSU-IV is to provide well-balanced, high-quality education for undergraduate and graduate students and to contribute to knowledge and the solution of problems through excellence and distinction in teaching, research, and service. The university serves to impart an appreciation and broad understanding of human experience through the world and the ages. This education extends to diverse cultural legacies. |

Each of the partner institutions has distinguishing features. Imperial Valley College, the lead partner in the cooperative project, is a public, two-year comprehensive community college. IVC was established as the El Centro Junior College in 1921. The main campus is located in the city of Imperial. Extended centers have been developed in El Centro, Brawley and Calexico.

Accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), IVC offers Associate Degrees and Certificate Programs in 57 areas of study shown below.

In the 2001-2002 Academic year, 311 students transferred to four-year universities, among which, 225 went to California State University Campuses around the state, including 174 to San Diego State University.

San Diego State University – Imperial Valley Campus is a public, four-year free-standing branch of San Diego State University (SDSU), located 120 miles east of it. Established in 1959 and accredited by WASC, SDSU-IV expanded into two sites last year. The Calexico location is six blocks from Mexicali, the capital of Baja California, Mexico. The Brawley location is 24 miles north of the Calexico site. SDSU-IV provides bachelor’s degrees, some master’s programs, and teaching credentials.

SDSU-IV awarded 139 bachelor's degrees in 2003, and Hispanics were 87% of all B.A. recipients. The graduation rate for the fall 2000 cohort of students who transferred from a community college to SDSU-IV was 68.7% when measured through Spring 2004.

Economic and Geographic Information about the Service Area

Imperial County is bordered by Mexico to the south, Arizona to the east, Riverside County to the north and San Diego County to the west. With 4,597 sq. miles of arid desert, where temperatures often exceed 110<sup>0</sup>F, approximately 50% of the county's land mass is underdeveloped (www.co.imperial.ca.us). Nevertheless, "[t]his nearly half million acres of fields now grow much of the produce in the United States" (National Geographic, Feb. 2005, p. 94).

According to the 2000 Census, the county population is 142,361, of which 72.2% is Hispanic, the highest percentage in California. Imperial County is home to two of five major ports of entry from Mexico along the California border. About one third of the county's population is foreign born, and 31.5% of its foreign-born population immigrated to the US since 1990 (US Census, 2000). The county's population grew more than 30% between 1990 and 2000.

Over twenty-two percent of county residents live below the poverty level, almost twice that of the statewide rate (US Census, 2000). The county's per capita income is only $13,239 annually, almost 42% below the correspondent statewide level. Unemployment has averaged 20% or more every year for at least the past fifteen years, almost four times the statewide rate (California Labor Market Department, www.calmis.ca.gov). Bachelor's degree recipients exist at less than 40% of the state rate.

In the 2002-2003 Academic Year, 81.2% of all students enrolled at IVC received financial assistance. For the last seven years (since reporting began), IVC has led the state in the percentage of community college students receiving Federal Pell Grants. The state average in 2001-2002 was 8.75%, while IVC had 27.25%. This represents almost 3,000 low-income students at IVC. Similarly, in Fall 2004, 42% of SDSU-IV students were Pell grantees, and 89% of those grantees were Hispanics.

Additionally, 62% of IVC students are part-time students, while 38% of SDSU-IV students are part-time; many at both colleges work full time.

Enrollment increased almost 9% in Fall 2004 compared to Fall 2003 at IVC. The FTE at SDSU-IV increased over 10% between spring 2004 and spring 2005, from 530 to 612.

Faculty Characteristics

The student to faculty ratio averages 23:1 at both colleges. The ethnic composition of the faculty at IVC and SDSU-IV is incongruent with that of student populations. Among the combined faculty at the two institutions, Hispanics account for approximately 21.5% of the total, and overall minority faculty comprise 24.7%.

Project Narrative

Justification for Funding Under a Cooperative Arrangement (For cooperative arrangement proposals only. See General Instructions for further information).

JUSTIFICATION FOR FUNDING UNDER A COOPERATIVE AGREEMENT

The proposed Cooperative Title V Project represents a carefully planned, focused attempt by Imperial Valley College (IVC) and San Diego State University-Imperial Valley (SDSU-IV) to address the shared problem of limited higher education opportunities for local Hispanics. Our cooperative arrangement involves institutional partners from more than one university or college system, as described in Invitational Priority 4. IVC is a two-year, public, California community college. SDSU-IV is a four-year, public, free-standing branch campus of San Diego State University, which is part of the California State University system.

This cooperative agreement between a two-year (IVC) and a four-year (SDSU-IV) Hispanic-Serving Institution also meets Invitational Priority 1, for it is designed to increase the transfer and retention of Hispanic students by expanding access to higher education through creating two 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs that are in high demand—computer science and nursing. The foundation of this cooperative arrangement is the shared mission, student clientele, and communities of the two institutions. In fact, the major goals of the Project can only be accomplished through the collaboration of the two institutions. As a junior college, IVC incorporates as part of its mission the transfer of its students to baccalaureate-level institutions. As the only California bachelor's and master's degree offering institution within a 120-mile radius, SDSU-IV provides the last two years of undergraduate education.

The proposed Project also has distinct geographic and economic effectiveness mentioned in the general invitation. Geographically, IVC and SDSU-IV are eleven miles apart and are the only public post-secondary institutions in the county they both serve. The county's demographics are detailed in the Institutional Narrative; in summary, the area has an Hispanic population of 72.2% with high levels of poverty and unemployment and low levels of educational achievement. Students are place-bound by not only poverty but also ties to their cultures and families. Therefore, it makes sense to offer much needed bachelor's degree programs to Hispanic and low-income people at the colleges in their "backyard" in a reliable, efficient format.

Economically, we are taking advantage of the collaborative arrangement to develop cost-effective activities. SDSU-IV has a small number of faculty and no nursing laboratory; IVC has a 17 year old nursing building with classrooms, wet labs, a computer lab and a tutoring center. SDSU-IV does have seven "smart" classrooms, three computer classrooms, and an interactive TV distance-learning classroom that could benefit IVC. The two new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs will allow both institutions to share each other's technological resources as described in Invitational Priority 1, as well as sharing faculty, lab space, staff, and equipment without the duplicated effort of offering the same first two-year curricula for new degree programs. Together, we will achieve an economic scale that enhances each institution's ability to serve the needs of Hispanic and low-income communities more efficiently and effectively.

Both IVC and SDSU-IV participate in the College Bound Initiative, a consortium of educational institutions working to improve local high school graduates' rates of college enrollment, organized by the Imperial County Office of Education, an LEA. Our work within this consortium meets the general invitational priority of using non-Title V funds to increase Hispanics' access to higher education, since Hispanics comprise over 70% of local K-12 students.

The effectiveness of our partnership is based upon a long history of working relationships between IVC and SDSU-IV. For instance, we have worked collaboratively to create a mathematics teaching Baccalaureate degree. Also, IVC publishes the SDSU-IV class schedule inside IVC's class schedule, and SDSU-IV financial aid and transfer center counselors work at IVC one day each week.

Through combining resources, IVC and SDSU-IV can provide educational opportunities to Hispanic and other low-income individuals who have, for too long, been denied access to higher education. With strong, shared 2+2 degree programs, Hispanics' under-representation in the healthcare and computer science professions can be overcome. By capitalizing on each institution's strengths and by sharing the extensive costs of the facilities and equipment used by the two new degree programs, both institutions can better achieve their goals and more effectively reach out to help rural Hispanic and other low-income students to succeed.

COMPREHENSIVE DEVELOPMENT PLAN

The Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) for Imperial Valley College (IVC) and San Diego State University, Imperial Valley (SDSU-IV) addresses the lack of professional educational opportunities for Hispanic and low-income students in our isolated rural county. To expand our educational pipeline, increasing the capacity of our institutions to serve a growing number of students, we propose to create 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs that are badly needed locally—in computer science and nursing. Our CDP analyzes common strengths and weaknesses in our academic programs, institutional management, and fiscal stability.

The Title V Planning Process

This CDP and Activity Narrative arose out of nine meetings over ten months. The working group consisted of ten faculty, staff and administrators from Imperial Valley College (IVC) and five faculty, staff and administrators from San Diego State University, Imperial Valley (SDSU-IV).

IVC's President and SDSU-IV's Dean talked with county business leaders and K-12 administrators about their needs for hiring and retaining qualified professionals. IVC faculty surveyed community business leaders about their needs for personnel with advanced degrees. IVC's Director of Nursing gathered input from the county's hospitals and health agencies about the need for B.S. degrees in nursing. IVC faculty surveyed nearly two hundred students about their level of interest in possible programs in biology, computer science, nursing, and engineering. SDSU-IV's Dean talked with San Diego Campus departments about their level of support for possible new bachelor's degree programs. A faculty member from San Diego Campus' Computer Science Department visited SDSU-IV on several occasions to assess its instructional computing facilities.

The working group discussed various strategies for addressing unemployment, county healthcare concerns, and the shortage of professionals in the Imperial Valley. During our committee's meetings, institutional research and planning documents from both institutions were discussed. IVC's goal in its 2000-2003 master plan of increasing its transfer rate is served by our collaborative project. IVC's 2004-2014 Long-Range Facilities Planning Report includes the goal of developing joint academic programs with SDSU-IV that is met through our project, as well. SDSU-IV's 2002-2007 master plan goal of expanding its academic programs is also served by our project.

The Title V committee identified and analyzed common institutional strengths and weaknesses. Various new bachelor's degree programs were suggested in response to the discussion of weaknesses; two programs were chosen. Implementation strategies, activity goals and objectives, project management, and evaluation plans were discussed. By joining forces to strengthen both institutions cooperatively, we will remove some of the barriers that Hispanics and other low-income residents face as they attempt to gain access to science and health professional careers. In doing so, we also address critical county shortfalls in the numbers of qualified health and computer science professionals.

Common Strengths of Academic Programs:

1) Faculty at IVC and SDSU-IV are dedicated to serving the predominantly Hispanic, first-generation, rural student population. Informal mentoring of students is common. Small to moderate class sizes (generally of 15-40) enable meaningful personal relationships between faculty and students that inspire student success. IVC's TRIO Programs--Upward Bound, Talent Search, and Student Support Services--provide extensive outreach to Hispanic and low-income youth throughout Imperial County. At SDSU-IV, the Faculty-Student Mentoring Program assists 30-40 at-risk students annually. Each year psychology faculty drive students 120 miles to SDSU in San Diego to learn about the master's programs there. Every year, SDSU-IV faculty take students to professional conferences, using student body association funds. SDSU-IV's four-year graduation rate for students enrolled from 2000-2004 was 68.7%.

2) Both H.S.I.s offer services that help Hispanic, low-income, and disabled students succeed in their academic pursuits. Free tutoring is available for both IVC and SDSU-IV students. IVC operates a center that provides free childcare to students who meet the low-income requirements. In addition, Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOP) assists over 1,100 low-income students. Both colleges offer assistance to disabled students, and SDSU-IV has teaching assistants in developmental writing and math courses. IVC's Transfer Center provides full advising services. Each week, SDSU-IV sends their Transfer Counselor and Financial Aid Officer to IVC to assist students.

3) Both colleges have created programs that serve county needs. IVC offers nursing and early childhood development programs that meet local needs for associate degree nurses, LVNs, and licensed childcare workers; over 700 nurses have graduated since 1975—and most stayed in the local job market, according to surveys. SDSU-IV recently established a master's program in educational leadership to meet the area's need for qualified K-12 administrators, and an agribusiness major to train agricultural managers for our rural valley.

Common Strengths of Institutional Management:

1) Faculty, staff, students, and administrators at IVC and SDSU-IV have high morale due to the respect they hold for their energetic, capable top administrators, as well as for their hardworking department chairs. Strong leadership and harmonious professional relationships help maintain our focus on achieving excellence.

2) As the result of county population growth, offering courses at multiple locations, and innovative class scheduling, both colleges' enrollments are growing—IVC headcounts at the rate of 10% per year, and SDSU-IV FTE by 10% since spring 2004. IVC offers classes in local high schools as well as in three established centers in Brawley, Calexico, and El Centro; SDSU-IV recently opened a second campus in Brawley.

3) Both institutions collaborate with outside educational agencies to promote educational access for Hispanic and low-income K-12 students. IVC and SDSU-IV are active participants in the College Bound Initiative started by the Imperial County Office of Education. This local consortium of K-16 institutions aims to raise county high schoolers' low rates of qualification for California State University and University of California admission by addressing such barriers as the lack of required college preparatory physical science laboratory courses in many Imperial County high schools.

4) Continuous analysis and planning occur at both colleges through the participation of all constituents. In 2004 IVC underwent a Shared Vision process that included faculty, staff, students, administrators, and community leaders. SDSU completed such a process in 2002.

Common Strengths of Fiscal Stability:

1) To meet drastic budget cuts from public sources, IVC and SDSU-IV have improved their funding strategies in recent years. Both colleges have garnered major grants from the U.S. Department of Education for bringing technology into the classroom, and, in IVC's case, to fund a distance learning program. IVC convinced Imperial County voters at the November 2004 election to pass a $58.6 million GO bond issue for the construction of a new Science and Technology Center and other facilities. In 1999-2000, SDSU-IV received $527,872 in grant awards. By January of 2004, an additional $10,234,201 had been awarded. SDSU-IV also increased its endowment from less than $100,000 to over $1.5 million over the past seven years. Also, 200 acres were donated for an SDSU-IV second campus in Brawley that opened in 2004 to serve the north end of Imperial County.

2) IVC and SDSU-IV observe fiscally responsible budgeting practices. Despite years of legislative cuts, conservative fiscal policies have kept IVC and SDSU-IV from laying off full-time staff.

3) Both institutions have maintained low tuition costs to ease access for their largely low-income populations. Although tuition was increased from $18 to $26 per credit hour this semester at IVC, and from $781 per semester in 2000 to $1,234 per semester in 2005 for full-time undergraduates at SDSU-IV, tuition at California's public institutions of higher education is still a good deal when compared to other states.

Weaknesses/ Significant Problems of the Academic Programs:

Due to inadequate numbers of faculty, a small range of academic programs, and insufficient laboratory facilities, IVC and SDSU-IV are ill-equipped to handle the enrollment surge predicted by the College Going Initiative, a K-16 consortium of local schools, IVC, and SDSU-IV. The projected enrollment surge is based on current enrollment trends and county population growth. IVC predicts enrollment growth of 39% by 2014 (IVC 2004-14 Long-Range Facilities Planning Report, p. 5).

1) A shortage of faculty (especially Hispanic faculty) exists at both colleges. A fall 2004 Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) draft report complains of there being too few tenure-track faculty to adequately serve each major at SDSU-IV. WASC reports from the last decade make similar complaints about the “thinness” of faculty serving programs at SDSU-IV. IVC has a similar, but more extreme problem. The shortage of full-time tenure-track faculty at IVC is so great that many faculty teach overloads of up to 100% in order to cover needed course sections. Both institutions find it difficult to locate and retain qualified part time faculty in the Imperial Valley. Also, both colleges find it hard to recruit Hispanic faculty at anywhere near the 83% rate of Hispanic student enrollment; as a result, Hispanic students lack role models who might inspire them to pursue undergraduate and graduate degrees.

2) Inadequate laboratory facilities also impede the development of academic programs. Despite student demand for science courses at IVC in spring 2005, no additional course sections could be offered due to a lack of laboratories and faculty. IVC’s 2004-14 Long-Range Facilities Planning Report’s analysis of student waiting lists indicates that 35 additional science course sections are needed each semester (p. 5). The county bond issue passed in 2004 will contribute $24 million to improve laboratory facilities at IVC (but not at SDSU-IV). SDSU-IV’s only laboratory is a simply equipped physical science classroom that seats 25 students.

3) The local community perceives the two colleges as offering limited access to degree programs in high-demand fields. IVC is known primarily for ESL and vocational training. SDSU-IV is known primarily for teacher training. Though other programs are offered at both colleges, the criticism that there are relatively few academic programs is valid. For example, IVC offers computer repair and information courses but no computer science degree. SDSU-IV offers no degree programs in science or healthcare fields.

Common Institutional Management Weaknesses/ Significant Problems:

- 1) Both colleges are understaffed; as a result, staff wear too many hats, resulting in limited services, and a lack of time and opportunities for professional advancement for staff.
- 2) The opportunity for IVC and SDSU-IV to collaborate has not been fully exploited until recently. Since IVC provides over 90% of SDSU-IV's students as transfers, and since the two colleges are the only ones in the county, and located only 25 minutes apart, it makes sense for the two colleges to work together, saving money by sharing facilities and staff, and boosting transfer rates of Hispanic students.
- 3) IVC's rate of transfer to four-year universities, especially SDSU-IV, is not as high as the leadership of either institution would desire, particularly given IVC's 86% Hispanic headcount. In 2001-02, out of a headcount well over 6,000, just 311 students transferred from IVC to four-year universities, including 174 to SDSU.

Common Fiscal Weaknesses:

- 1) A lack of resources to develop new degree programs, upgrade science labs (SDSU-IV), and improve services hampers the colleges' attempts to serve their Hispanic and other low-income students. In 2001-02, IVC spent an average of $4,241 per FTE student whereas the average community college nationally spent $8,738; SDSU-IV spent an average of $5,492 per FTE student whereas public universities nationally spent $21,037.

In part, the lack of resources at SDSU-IV is due to California's economic problems, as well as Imperial County's problems that have caused a 14% reduction for SDSU-IV since 2002. Over the past 25 years, California's public support of higher education has decreased by 26% (Post Secondary Opportunity, #126, Dec. 2002). Also, the community is reluctant to donate large sums of money to the two colleges because it views them as not fully serving business, K-12, and healthcare needs for professional training.

Major Problem to be Addressed through the Title V Cooperative Arrangement:

With a population that is over 70% Hispanic, Imperial County has the lowest per capita income and the highest percentage of Hispanics of California counties, suffering from an unemployment rate of over 24%. The lack of a stable population of professionals hampers healthcare and industry, preventing desperately needed economic development.

Causes of the Problem:

The causes of the dearth of professionals include poverty, second language barriers, the lack of a college-going culture, and the already mentioned poorly funded schools and narrowness of academic offerings at IVC and SDSU-IV.

According to the California Dept. of Education, over 66% of county high school students are low-income, and 27% come from migrant farm families. The California Postsecondary Education Commission reports that in 2000, 31.5% of Imperial County Latino children lived in poverty, whereas the statewide rate for Latino children was 27.2%. The poverty of the unskilled employed, as well as of the unemployed, makes it likely that many will regard college as too costly to attend. To make matters worse, due to the shortfalls from state funding in recent years, IVC has raised its fees by over 60%, and SDSU-IV by 76%. The cost of textbooks continues to rise.

While the costs of attending college locally may seem difficult to many potential students, the cost of attending college outside the Imperial Valley may seem impossible. Also moving far away from parents and the extended family is unacceptable to many local Hispanics. As a result of economic and cultural factors, the majority of potential students are place-bound, relying solely on the program options offered by IVC and SDSU-IV, their neighborhood institutions.

The rate of high school graduates' admissibility to the California State University (CSU) or University of California (UC) is 20% locally vs. 35% statewide (California Postsecondary Education Commission). One cause for this low rate of college readiness is the lack of a college-going culture. Less than 11% of Imperial County residents are college graduates, and only 6.4% of Latinos; by contrast, in 2000, according to the US Census Bureau, the California college graduate rate for whites aged 25 and over was 27%, with a 7.7% rate for Latinos. Between 1999 and 2002, only 11% of county high school graduates entered the California State University or University of California systems, vs. 18% statewide (California Postsecondary Education Commission, www.cpec.ca.gov). Most local K-12 students lack familial role models for attending college.

According to the California Postsecondary Education Commission, in 2000 11.3% of local children spoke English "not well" or not at all, whereas the state average is 5.8%. Fifteen percent of IVC's students are Limited English Proficient (LEP). LEP barriers can mire students in years of ESL coursework before they can begin to earn college credits at IVC, adding greatly to the cost of earning a degree.

Consequences, for Academic Programs, of Not Addressing the Problem:

If the two postsecondary institutions in the county fail to enlarge the stable population of professionals in the area, the consequences will be damaging. The professional positions in such high-demand fields as nursing and computer science will continue to go unfilled or to people from outside of the region because the range of professional training programs offered here is limited, with no academic programs to train the critically needed above-mentioned personnel.

The consequences for our students are dire. In 2003, Pedro Rodriguez (name changed) completed IVC's associate's degree nursing program, then became an RN. (Eight percent of IVC's nursing students are men, according to IVC's Director of Nursing.) In 2004, Pedro, with his wife and children, moved 120 miles to San Diego so he could complete the BSN at SDSU. When his wife's mother's Parkinson's disease became severe, Pedro's wife returned to live in the Imperial Valley to care for her mother, bringing the children. Now Pedro can only see his family once a week, spending four hours driving to and from the Imperial Valley, in addition to his RN job and many hours spent working towards the BSN. How long can Pedro's marriage survive the strain of having husband and wife live 120 miles apart? How much are Pedro's children suffering due to their father's absence?

Norma Esparza (name changed) is a single mother who would like to become a computer professional. Because she depends on her extended family for childcare, and due to her restricted income, Norma cannot leave Imperial County to study elsewhere. There is no way for her to become a computer science professional unless the only higher education institutions in the county, IVC and SDSU-IV, offer a 2+2 program leading to a bachelor's degree in computer science. Without this option, Norma will continue to work as a low-paid data-entry clerk.

Consequences of the Problem for Institutional Management:

Both colleges continue to struggle to recruit and retain qualified full-time and part-time faculty and professional staff, particularly Hispanic professionals, in part due to a lack of a local pool. Each year IVC and SDSU-IV spend considerable time and money on searches (some of which fail), and on orienting new faculty and professional staff.

Consequences of the Problem for Fiscal Stability:

The lack of adequate numbers of course sections due to a shortage of part-time faculty delays students' completion of their IVC education, discourages students psychologically, adds to the cost of their education, and impedes their ability to transfer to four-year institutions. Course sections that would have filled but weren't offered also reduce IVC's FTES revenues. Growth in FTES is also restricted by the narrowness of course offerings.

More generally, the lack of professionals retards the county's economic growth; in turn, the lack of local economic growth stunts potential FTES generating enrollments, as well as donations from industry and alumni at both colleges.

Consequences of the Problem for Imperial County:

Though the local unemployment rate is high, industry and healthcare employers import professionals from out of the county because of the lack of a local pool. In turn, these professionals from elsewhere tend to leave the Imperial Valley as soon as they can to avoid its extremely hot summers, and remoteness from urban amenities. A 2003 survey of 170 Imperial County businesses conducted by the Imperial County Community and Economic Development Department reports that 50% of respondents "expressed that hiring trained staff is an obstacle and training is too costly." Because there are relatively few professional training programs offered at IVC and SDSU-IV, local talent often departs after high school. As a result, there is a chronic shortage of professionals such as nurses and computer specialists.

IVC's fall 2004 survey of Imperial Irrigation District (IID) leaders indicates a need for advanced degree programs in computer science. More specifically, as just one of the agencies in Imperial County, IID currently needs ten computer science personnel with bachelor's degrees. IID has difficulty hiring qualified people to fill professional positions; they also have difficulty retaining the ones hired from outside the county. It is time for our two colleges to take positive steps towards creating high-level employment opportunities for local Hispanics. Nationally, between now and 2012, four of the ten fastest growing occupations are expected to be in high tech (Bureau of Labor Statistics, Feb. 2004). IVC and SDSU-IV need to prepare local Latinos to take advantage of this trend.

Wayne Schell, president of the California Association for Local Economic Development, said of Imperial County's "sky-high unemployment" rate, "By God, if any place needs help, it's Imperial" (Los Angeles Times, "2 Far-Flung Counties" March 23, 2003). L.A. Times reporter, Lee Romney, adds that Imperial County has "scraped the bottom of California's statistical barrel for years . . . So desperate for jobs was Imperial County a few years back that it competed to host a state hospital for violent sexual predators. It lost." Whereas 12% of the U.S. population lived below the poverty level in 2000, 22% of Imperial County residents did (U.S. Census Bureau). The county's per capita income has dropped dramatically compared to the state average during the past three decades, according to the Bureau of Economic Analysis; in 1975, Imperial County per capita income was at 85% of the state average, but in 2000, it had decreased dramatically to 57% of the state average--$18,469 locally vs. $32,149 statewide. Each year Imperial County Hispanics fall deeper into the hole of low educational attainment with consequent low earning power.

To gain a college degree means more to Hispanics' earning power than to whites': "A study conducted by the US Commission on Civil Rights revealed that the unemployment rates of whites dropped progressively with increasingly higher levels of education; however, among African Americans and Hispanics, this inverse relationship between level of education and unemployment did not emerge until the baccalaureate level was completed." This pattern will become more destructive between now and 2012, for ten of the twenty fastest-growing occupations require a degree (Bureau of Labor Statistics, February 2004).

Healthcare is also problematic in Imperial County. Our border area has poor air quality due to agricultural pesticides and burning, plus smog from Mexicali, Mexico; and in 1986, 60 Minutes rated the New River, which flows into the county from Mexicali, as the most polluted river in the world (National Geographic, February 2005, p. 99). Dr. Alfonso Rodriguez of Imperial County Public Health Services reports that the rate of tuberculosis is “regularly at least twice as high as for other counties in California” since 1988. Dr. Rodriguez likewise states that childhood asthma hospitalizations in our county have been at twice the state rate since 1983; while the California rate decreased during the 1990s, it increased here during the late 1990s (California Center for Border Regional and Economic Studies, www.ccbres.sdsu.edu). The percentage of adults taking asthma medications—58%--is also the highest of any county in the state (UCLA Center for Health Policy Research cited in CCBRES Bulletin, February 2005, v.6.2, p. 3).

The percentage of adults who have been diagnosed with diabetes is the highest of any county in California, as well—9% locally vs. 6% statewide; a contributing factor to the explosion of diabetes here may be that Imperial County adults have the highest Body Mass Index (BMI) in the state; 66% are considered overweight, vs. 54% statewide (UCLA Center for Health Policy Research cited in CCBRES Bulletin, February 2005, p. 3). In addition, Imperial County has the highest percentage of any county in the state of residents covered by Medicare—25% here vs. 10% statewide (CCBRES Bulletin, February 2005, p. 2). Our county’s high rate of Medicare coverage suggests that an unusually large number of residents are elderly; as these residents further age, additional health problems will be likely to arise.

According to the California Department of Health Services, Birth Records, the percentage of Imperial County live births with late or no prenatal care was 8.4% in 2003; Los Angeles' County's rate was 1.6% (CCBRES Bulletin, January 2005, p. 2).

The availability and quality of local healthcare are hampered by the lack of nurses who have bachelor's degrees. Imperial County has fewer than 400 Registered Nurses per 100,000 residents, making it one of the least served counties in California (Nursing in California: a Workforce Crisis, California Workforce Initiative 1/2001, p. 11). The Board of Nursing noted that in-patient pediatric care was at best uneven in the Imperial Valley. IVC's Associate's Degree Nursing Program graduates about 30-40 RNs annually; they are bed-side practitioners who, because of the lack of nurses with Bachelor's degrees, often end up getting promoted by local hospitals into management and leadership roles their education has not prepared them for, according to IVC's Director of Nursing, Kathy Berry.

Alternate Solutions to the Problem:

One approach would be to leave the problem unsolved. The consequences of this would be that Imperial County would remain in a mode of remediation, constantly trying to import professionals faster than they depart, while the local Hispanic population remains overwhelmingly poor. Meanwhile, the population of Imperial County is projected to increase, according to the California Department of Finance, to 221,585 in 2010, and 298,700 in 2020; this growth will continue the trend of extreme (30%) population growth during the 1990s. As the county's population increases, the shortage of professionals will most likely get worse, while county residents' per capita income remains low, unless local Hispanics' access to higher education options increases.

The Imperial County Office of Education reports that county K-12 enrollment increased from 33,004 in 1999 to 35,115 in 2004. IVC and SDSU IV need to expand their degree options for a growing population of college-age students. The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) reports that those who stop with high-school degrees earn low incomes--about 150% of an amount equal to the poverty level. Those with bachelor's degrees earn two to three times as much as those who did not complete high school (NCES 2002). According to the California Center for Border Regional and Economic Studies (CCBRES) in Calexico, "The economy will remain poor, specifically, per capita income will remain at about 60% of the state average, until the educational attainment of individuals in the region is enhanced to a significant degree" (www.ccbres.sdsu.edu). This data indicates that without expanded access to higher education, the people who live in Imperial County will simply relive the despair of their impoverished and undereducated forbearers.

What the two Imperial County colleges decided that we can do about this problem, through our current proposal, is to start 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs that train computer science and healthcare professionals who grew up here and might remain. This would permanently expand the pipeline of educational and economic opportunity for local Hispanics who are place-bound. It would also end, or at least reduce, the vicious cycle of importing professionals while exporting talented eighteen year olds to professional training programs elsewhere.

IVC has nineteen full-time Hispanic faculty and SDSU-IV has five full-time Hispanic faculty who grew up in the Imperial Valley and were delighted to return here to settle among their extended families. All of SDSU-IV's academic advisers are Hispanics who are happy to live in their home county. This suggests that recruitment at the two colleges of faculty and professional staff, and especially of Hispanics, would improve if IVC and SDSU-IV expanded their pipelines by offering additional bachelor's degree programs.

Twenty of the 22 students in SDSU-IV's new mathematic major are Hispanics who transferred from IVC; this implies that Hispanics enroll in rigorous new academic programs when the two local colleges offer them. The question then becomes which programs are most needed to alleviate the shortage of professionals—and particularly of Hispanic professionals--in Imperial County. The Title V working group debated the selection of possible programs during several meetings. In fall 2004 IVC faculty polled nearly two hundred students about the demand for bachelor's degree programs in biology, nursing, engineering, and computer science. IVC also surveyed local companies and health centers. IVC's President and SDSU-IV's Dean discussed various possible programs with industrial leaders, K-12 administrators, and SDSU-San Diego Campus departments and administrators.

Biology, civil and electrical engineers are needed to meet the demands of local industry, according to industry leaders. However, the SDSU-IV Dean feels that supporting two different engineering B.S. degrees or a biology degree would be prohibitively expensive at this point in its institutional evolution. A computer science degree would be more realistic to support and would similarly address local needs for growth of the business sector; hence, a bachelor's degree program in computer science is proposed.

The proposed bachelor's degree program in nursing would attack a county shortage of qualified lead nurses that has dire consequences for the health of local residents. Given the largely Spanish-speaking student population of IVC and SDSU-IV, it would also enable the training of bilingual nurses who would be invaluable to county residents, many of whom speak only Spanish.

The proposed programs in computer science and nursing will not only add valuable educational and economic opportunities for Hispanic and low-income students; meet county needs for health professionals and computer scientists; and improve the local economy and healthcare, but will also increase the number of Imperial Valley Hispanics who pursue a bachelor's degree that leads them to a rewarding career. The number of students who transfer from IVC to a four-year university will substantially increase as a result—including an increase in the number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV.

Nationally, the low rate of minority students' transfer from community colleges to four-year universities is discouraging, especially given the fact that the majority of Hispanic students use community colleges as their entry into higher education ("Clearing the Pathway: Improving Opportunities for Minority Students to Transfer," L. Rendon and A. Nora, American Council on Education). To support the success of the students in IVC and SDSU-IV's new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs, our Title V project will give three units of assigned time every semester to each of the new faculty in the proposed programs at IVC and SDSU-IV to allow them to offer supplemental instruction courses. These supplemental courses will help make up for local students' lack of academic preparation, building their study skills and comprehension of course material. Studies have shown that the relatively low rate of minority transfer to universities stems in part from community college faculty's lack of involvement in "a close working relationship with students and that faculty/student interactions were minimal" ("Clearing the Pathway: Improving Opportunities for Minority Students to Transfer," L. Rendon and A. Nora, American Council on Education). Our supplemental courses will foster mentoring of students at both IVC and SDSU-IV.

In fact, given that the students in each new 2+2 program will take all their courses in their major together, these students will benefit from the intimacy of being in a Learning Community, with consequent daring to risk exploring new ideas in order to grow intellectually. The concept of Learning Communities “in the late 1970s and '80s produced a pedagogy and structure that has led, among other things, to students' increased grade point averages, retention, and intellectual development” (Miami University FIPSE Project <http://www.units.muohio.edu/flc/what.shtml>)

In addition, IVC and SDSU-IV faculty in the new 2+2 programs will collaborate to make their curriculum and pedagogy consistent. Ford Foundation projects to encourage successful transfer of community college students to universities found that one useful strategy was “to strengthen similarities among courses and programs so that students experienced some intellectual continuity as they moved between institutions” (“The Transfer Function,” A. Bernstein and J. Eaton, American Council on Education). Since IVC will hire one full-time faculty member in each new 2+2 degree program and SDSU-IV will hire two, and since these faculty will be among a circumscribed group of local professionals with whom they can talk about their fields, it will be easy for such small groups of faculty to collaborate to make their courses intellectually consistent. The joint use of laboratories and other facilities will make pedagogical cooperation across institutions convenient and natural, as well.

Beyond IVC and SDSU-IV faculty's cooperation, academic and student services staff and administrators will work together to ensure that all courses in the new 2+2 degree programs are smoothly articulated. To bolster students' prospects of completing the baccalaureate, our Title V project will fund part-time academic advisers at IVC and SDSU-IV who will assist students with timely completion of the 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree program requirements. Students who enter IVC having met the high school course and SAT requirements for California State University admission will also benefit from “Fast Track,” which guarantees enrollment in all IVC courses needed for university transfer within eighteen months. These efforts to assure students’ success fall under the Ford Foundation transfer projects’ suggestions: “Faculty and administrators are willing, under certain circumstances, to work together across institutions to build a roadway of academic programs and services to aid students who attend two institutions” (“The Transfer Function,” A. Bernstein and J. Eaton, American Council on Education). What could better encourage widening the academic pathway between institutions than a five-year Title V cooperative project in which joint academic programs are the focus?

The proposed 2+2 programs will help IVC and SDSU-IV to grow, enhancing each H.S.I.’s fiscal stability. In the current California climate of reduced public funding for colleges, the two institutions will be unable to support the cost of starting new programs, particularly those that involve laboratories and equipment, without grant support.

Institutional Goals and Objectives (Unified)

As stated earlier in the CDP, the Title V Planning Committee, IVC and SDSU-IV Administrators, and the local community were all involved in connecting the grant project’s goals to institutional objectives.

The following tables present the two institutions’ common goals and objectives for Academic Programs, Institutional Management, and Fiscal Stability:

| Academic Goals  | Academic Objectives  |

Institutionalizing Practices and Improvements

The Title V planning committee discussed methods for institutionalizing the two new programs at both colleges. The attitude change entailed in collaborating closely to create seamless 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs will have been ingrained in IVC and SDSU-IV faculty and staff through practice over the five years of the project. Since the new programs will build academic capacity and fiscal stability at the two H.S.I.'s, their institutionalization will be inevitable. That both institutions intend to hire full-time faculty for the new majors shows their determination to make computer science and nursing associate's to bachelor's degree programs permanent.

Funding for IVC's new, tenure-track nursing instructor will be institutionalized at the start of Year 3, at a salary/ benefits cost of about $272,534 to IVC over three years. The tenure-track computer science instructor will be institutionalized at the start of Year 4, at a salary/ benefits cost to IVC of $177,223 over two years.

IVC's Institutional Research Office reports that IVC gets $3,800 per new FTES (full-time equivalent student); it will take a total of about 24 FTES in the new programs to support the annual salaries/ benefits of the two new faculty. Twelve FTE in each of the programs is an easily achievable enrollment goal for funding self-sufficiency at IVC by fall of 2008.

SDSU-IV pays 100% of the salary and benefits for the first full-time nursing faculty starting in Year 5, 10/1/09, at $91,000, fully institutionalizing this position. On 10/1/09, 25% of the salary/ benefits of the second full-time nursing faculty are also taken over by SDSU-IV, at $22,750 which will fund the position 100% in subsequent years. The total SDSU-IV contribution to nursing is $113,750. SDSU-IV funding for the two full-time computer science faculty will be fully institutionalized (100%) at the end of the grant project, as of 9/30/10.

The Director of SDSU-IV Business Office, Irma Martinez, says it will take 92 additional FTES at $2,600 per new FTE to support the funding for the four new faculty members in the two new programs. That translates to just over 60 nursing students and about 30 computer science students spread over the junior and senior years by 9/30/10, a realistic goal. Note that some of the computer science classes will also serve SDSU-IV's applied mathematics majors, as well.

The duties of the Program Counselors at IVC will be taken over by the IVC Counselling Department by 10/1/08. The duties of the Academic Advisors at SDSU-IV will be taken over by the Counseling Department of SDSU-IV by 10/1/10 to continue serving our students.

Also, increased private financial support, due to the community's viewing the two colleges as meeting its needs, will help insure the new bachelor's degree programs' continuation. The bachelor's degree in nursing program, in particular, will benefit from partnerships with local hospitals and health agencies that will help cover its costs.

After the project ends, IVC plans to retain the Program Specialist as a grant specialist. The other developmental positions, such as Activity Co-directors and Program Coordinators, will no longer be needed after the work of establishing the new programs is completed at the end of the grant project. After 9/30/10, IVC and SDSU-IV will maintain the laboratories and smart classrooms, upgrading equipment as needed.

ACTIVITY DESCRIPTION: ACADEMIC PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

Activity Objectives

IVC and SDSU-IV's cooperative Activity, "Expanding Career Opportunities for Rural Hispanics: New 2+2 (Associate's to Bachelor's) Degree Programs," will permanently improve the career pipeline for Hispanic and low-income students in economically depressed Imperial County, California. As the only postsecondary institutions in the county, we will expand Hispanic access to higher education through creating two new, seamless 2+2 bachelor's degree programs to meet pressing local needs for qualified professionals in computer science and nursing. Our Academic Program Development Activity will lead to the following outcomes:

- 1) Starting in 2010, at least 55 Hispanics will graduate every year from the bachelor's degree programs in computer science and nursing, meeting local needs for computer and healthcare professionals.
- 2) Healthcare in Imperial County will improve, especially for Hispanics, as a result of the new program that will annually produce BSN nurses, many of them bilingual, who have gotten excellent training in pediatrics at San Diego hospitals.
- 3) Economic development and business staff recruitment will be enhanced by the computer science professionals who will graduate from our 2 + 2 (associate's to bachelor's) programs each year.
- 4) The relationship between IVC and SDSU-IV will be strengthened by the practice of collaborating closely for years to create seamless 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs; this enhanced aspect of institutional management will encourage the creation of other collaborative ventures that boost the transfer rate and benefit Hispanic and other low-income students.

- 5) The two institutions will benefit financially through joint use of laboratories and other facilities; through generating additional FTES as a result of the new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs; and through generating additional private donations as a result of better meeting community educational and employment needs.
- 6) More students will transfer from IVC to four -year universities, especially SDSU-IV. This is an especially important objective, since high-paying jobs are generally reserved for possessors of bachelor's degrees or higher (California Employment Development Dept.).

Relationship of the Activity Objectives to Institutional Goals

Meeting our Activity Objectives and Performance Indicators will help solve the problem of the limited pipeline to professional career opportunities for Hispanics in impoverished Imperial County that is described in our Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP). Our Activity Objectives and Performance Indicators outline our two colleges' creation of bachelor's degree programs in computer science and nursing that will permanently expand educational access for Hispanic and low-income students who, being place-bound, are restricted to the choice of programs we offer as the only postsecondary institutions in the Valley. As such, we can only solve the problem of limited professional training opportunities for Hispanics jointly, as we do in this collaborative proposal. Through increasing educational access via our new bachelor's degree programs, we will simultaneously increase our institutions' responsiveness to the county's hiring and retention needs for professionals. At least 55 students with bachelor's degrees in the new programs will graduate by the end of the project, and at least 275 students will be enrolled in the two associate's to bachelor's degree programs. Hundreds or thousands more will graduate during the decades after the project ends.

All of the Activity Objectives and Performance Indicators reflect Institutional Goals in the CDP. Goal 1 from the CDP is met through Objective 1 and its Performance Indicators. The 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree program in computer science will graduate fifteen Hispanics by the project's end, and enroll at least 80 students at IVC and SDSU-IV. This will meet economic development and hiring needs here. Funding for the three computer science faculty at IVC and SDSU-IV will be institutionalized by the project's end in September of 2010, as well.

Goal 2 from the CDP and Objective 3 in the Activity Narrative involve developing an R.N. to B.S.N. program in nursing to improve healthcare for Hispanics in Imperial County; 40 Hispanic nurses, many of them bilingual, will graduate during Year 4 and 5 of the project, at least 140 students will be enrolled at RN to BSN program at IVC and SDSU-IV, and the three new full-time nursing faculty at both colleges will be institutionalized. Objective 2.2 in the CDP is met through Performance Indicators 2.4A and 2.5B that set up a nursing training rotation in a San Diego hospital to improve pediatric care in the Imperial Valley. Goal 5 from the CDP is met through Activity Performance Indicators 2.2B and 2.5D that mandate partnerships with local hospitals and agencies to defray the costs of educating nurses.

Activity Objectives and Performance Indicators 2 also help solve the problem of inadequate healthcare in Imperial County described in the CDP. This problem stems from a shortage of well-trained healthcare professionals. The new bachelor's degree program in nursing will improve the healthcare of Hispanics in the Valley through meeting the need for BSN nurses, many them bilingual, who will have completed a pediatric training rotation at a San Diego hospital.

Goal 3 from the CDP is met through Activity P.I.s 3 each year, and by Activity Objective 4 in Year 5. This culminates in the institutionalization of funding for all new full-time faculty in the 2+2 programs at IVC by October 1, 2008; for all faculty at SDSU-IV by the end of the project, September 30, 2010; and in a substantial increase in the number of students who transfer from IVC to four-year universities, especially SDSU-IV. The total number of IVC students who transfer to four-year universities will increase by 13% overall, and by 25% when counting those IVC students who transfer to SDSU IV. These are important percentage increases that indicate IVC's improvement as an institution of higher education; having focused upon vocational education in the past, as did many community colleges, IVC now also emphasizes university preparation that will result in its graduates' gaining higher earning power.

Goal 4 from the CDP is reflected in Activity Objective 3 and its Performance Indicators; these describe the joint use of laboratories and other facilities to save money at both institutions. Another fiscal stability goal, Goal 6 from the CDP, is met by Activity Performance Indicator 3.5A and 3.5B, which state that by the end of the project's five years, both colleges will have increased their FTES 20% over Year 1, and their private donations by at least 10%. Performance Indicator 3.5C also addresses CDP Goal 6 in asserting that the new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs will have become self-sufficient through new FTES by 9/30/10.

Implementation Strategy and Time Table

Comprehensive Description of the Implementation Strategy

To help more local Hispanics become professionals, we will develop new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs that will permanently expand the educational pipeline for Imperial County residents. In Year 1, IVC will hire faculty in computer science and nursing; form a joint task force with SDSU-IV to develop degree plans; get curricula approved for the new degree programs; work with SDSU-IV on articulation issues and planning of joint-use laboratories and equipment.

Faculty in the new programs at IVC will be released from three units of teaching each semester to offer supplemental help to their students. Students in the new programs will be required to enroll in a supplemental instruction course each semester. The reason for this supplemental instruction is to bridge the gap between students' preparation and the demands of the college curriculum, especially given that the majority of our students come from second-language backgrounds. This supplemental instruction process will continue at SDSU-IV, where full-time faculty in the new programs will be released for three units each semester to allow them to provide supplemental instruction to their students.

In Year 2 and 3, IVC will pilot and revise courses in the new programs, create a computer science "smart" classroom, and will form a partnership with a local hospital or health agency to help cover the costs of training nurses. Meanwhile, SDSU-IV will work on getting new bachelor's degree curricula approved for the programs.

In Year 2-5, SDSU-IV will develop, pilot, and revise nursing courses; establish a pediatric training rotation at a San Diego hospital; and form the second partnership with a local hospital or health agency to help further defray the cost of training nurses. In Year 3-5, SDSU-IV will develop, pilot, and revise computer science courses, and create a computer science laboratory.

At IVC, by Year 4 and 5, faculty in the new programs will be fully funded by the institution. Enrollments in the new programs will continue to be tracked and reported to Title V. By the end of the project, SDSU-IV will also have institutionalized the funding for its four new full-time faculty positions. A total of at least 55 Hispanics will have graduated from the new bachelor's degree programs at SDSU-IV by September of 2010, and at least 275 students will be enrolled in the 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs at IVC and SDSU-IV.

Program Development and Student Services Teams will develop the new bachelor's degree programs with the assistance of computer science and nursing consultants and staff supported by Title V. The joint Program Development Team will be comprised of faculty, IVC's VP of Academic Services, SDSU-IV's Associate Dean, Division Chairs, Registrars, professional staff, Program Coordinators, and Activity Co-Directors. The Teams will organize searches for full-time faculty in computer science, and nursing; will complete the institutional processes for approving curriculum and degree programs; will settle articulation issues to create seamless 2+2 degree programs; and will plan laboratories, including assessing equipment needs.

The joint Program Development Team will collaborate with the joint Student Services Teams comprised of IVC's VP of Student Services, SDSU-IV's Assistant Dean, academic advisers, and transfer center counselors from both colleges to create smoothly articulated 2+2 programs served by well-trained transfer and academic advisers.

The Internal Monitoring Team, composed of administrators, faculty, staff, and students from both institutions, will provide valuable ideas for improving the implementation strategy when meeting with the Project Director and Activity Co-Directors once or twice each semester. At IVC, Dr. Kendra Jeffcoat, Vice President of Academic Services, and Dr. Victor Jaime, Vice President of Student Services, will work closely with the Project Director, as will Mr. Miguel Rahiotis, SDSU-IV Assistant Dean. In addition, the Community Leaders Advisory Board will meet with the Project Director and Activity Co-Directors once or twice a semester to provide real-world input into the project from business, industry, and healthcare leaders.

Project Narrative

Narrative of Implementation Strategy Rationale

Though from 1999-2002 only 5% of Imperial County high school graduates enrolled at one of the campuses of the California State University, compared to 10% of graduates enrolling statewide (California Postsecondary Education Commission), the percentage of local high school graduates enrolling at IVC is skyrocketing. According to the California Center for Border and Regional Economic Studies (CCBRES), between 2001 and 2002, enrollment of high school graduates at IVC increased from 63% to 76% in Calexico, 59% to 63% in Brawley, 53% to 65% in Holtville, 50% to 72% in El Centro, and 47% to 50% in Imperial (CCBRES Bulletin, Aug. 2004). The California Department of Finance, Demographic Research Unit projected that the number of high school graduates in Imperial County will increase 14% by 2010 compared to 2003. These dramatic increases in local high school graduates and IVC enrollment put the onus on the county's two postsecondary institutions to expand career pathways for place-bound students.

While county unemployment hovers around 24%, housing prices keep getting higher, reflecting California trends. The median home sales price rose from $112,000 in 2000 to $152,682 in 2003, a 35% increase (CCBRES Bulletin, Aug. 2004). The prospect that Hispanic youth will be able to purchase homes here is gloomy, unless we expand access to bachelor's degree programs that will lift them out of poverty and into professional careers. According to the California Employment Development Department, college graduates earn $17,560 more each year than high school graduates.

Faculty surveyed 160 IVC students to determine their level of interest in the proposed bachelor's degree programs in computer science and nursing.

2+2 (Associate's to Bachelor's) Degree Program in Computer Science

Out of 135 students surveyed in general-education mathematics courses at IVC during fall of 2004, 93% plan to earn a bachelor's degree. Forty-four percent of the students are interested in computer science, and fourteen of the students would be interested in pursuing a bachelor's degree in computer science if it becomes available locally. The reasons the fourteen students give for their interest in a 2+2 bachelor's degree program in computer science include "cheaper to live in the valley," "school is less expensive here," "family," "convenience," "my employment is here," and "save time."

Nationally, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) predicts that by 2012, 632,000 new jobs will have been created in the technical information sector alone, an 18.5% increase. In addition, technical service jobs will increase by 27.8%, and employment in computer systems design will expand by 55%. "Employment growth will be driven by the increasing reliance of businesses on information technology and the continuing importance of maintaining system and network security" (BLS 2003). Our new bachelor's degree program in computer science will prepare local Hispanics to enter this highly paid, growing field. IVC and SDSU-IV believe that our graduates should be prepared to enter the workforce with skills that make them desirable from the standpoint of employers. At SDSU-IV, every computer science major will be prepared to receive, before graduation, one or more of the following certifications: Cisco CCIE certification, Microsoft MCSE or MCSA certification, and/ or Microsoft SQL certification. Use of Geographic Information Systems (GIS) software will be incorporated into the upper-division computer science program, as well.

2+2 (Associate's to Bachelor's) Degree Program in Nursing

"The nursing shortage has reached crisis proportions in California" (California Strategic Planning Committee for Nursing, Phase III Final Report, Executive Summary, 2002, p. 3, <http://ucihs.uci.edu/cspcn>). The California Strategic Planning Committee for Nursing (CSPC) also projects a demand for almost 40% more RNs in California between 2000 and 2010.

According to the University of California, San Francisco, Center for the Health Professions, Imperial County faces one of the severest Registered Nursing shortages of California counties (Nursing in California, UC San Francisco, Jan. 2001). Each year, nurses with associate's degrees leave our county to pursue a bachelor's degree in nursing elsewhere; generally, such nurses don't return, according to IVC's Director of Nursing, Kathy Berry.

A 2004 survey of California RNs conducted by California State University, Chico, revealed that "18.7% of those with associate's degrees at the time of licensure later completed a baccalaureate or master's degree" (CSPC Executive Summary, p.1). In December 2004, IVC's Nursing Program Director polled 25 associate's degree students about their interest in our possible 2+2 degree program; 88% said that they planned to pursue a BSN during the next five years, and 100% said that they would pursue the BSN if SDSU-IV offered it.

Local hospitals that the IVC Nursing Program Director approached--El Centro Regional Medical Center and Pioneers Memorial Healthcare District--were enthusiastic about our proposed 2+2 program that creates a BSN pathway for associate's degree nurses. In creating this BSN pathway we respond to the California Strategic Planning Committee for Nursing's call for further work "on program articulation so that transitions are streamlined and predictable between L.V.N., A.D.N., and baccalaureate (B.S.N.) education programs" (CSPCN Final Report Executive Summary, 2002, p. 2). Our 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree program in nursing will also help raise the percentage of Hispanic nurses in California from the deplorable 1999 level of 4% (Nursing in California, Jan. 2001, p. 14)—for 86% of IVC's students are Hispanic, along with 80% of SDSU-IV's students.

To target the need for better in-patient pediatric care in the county noted by the Board of Nursing, we will arrange clinical or practical rotations of our BSN students at top hospitals such as Children's Hospital of San Diego or the University of California, San Diego Hospital. Having well-trained pediatric nurses at the BSN level would improve health care in Imperial County; currently, severely ill Imperial County children must be transferred 120 miles to San Diego hospitals because of the deficits in local nursing care, according to IVC's Nursing Director.

Though public health rotations would take place through the Imperial County Public Health Department, it may also be possible to arrange to have our RN to BSN students gain hands-on public health experiences in nearby Mexicali, Mexico; such experiences would deepen our students' understanding of the culture of their local Hispanic patients and of common health problems, as well as enhancing students' bilingual skills.

Supplemental Instruction Courses

Studies have found that transfer and persistence rates of Hispanic community college students are among the lowest ("Minorities in Higher Education: Nineteenth Annual Status Report," W. Harvey, American Council on Education, 2002). Because we want our Hispanic students, who constitute 86% of IVC's and 80% of SDSU-IV's population, to successfully complete the new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs, we are requiring them to take supplemental instruction courses conducted by the new faculty in these programs at IVC and SDSU-IV. "Supplemental Instruction (SI) is an internationally renowned, student-centered, peer-facilitated program designed to increase academic performance and retention through outside-of-class collaborative learning sessions. These gatherings provide opportunities to discuss, develop, and process course concepts" (<http://admin.sfcc.edu/~acres/supplement/>). Studies have found that Hispanics, like Native Americans, prefer the participative, personalized learning style that supplemental instruction courses utilize. “In comparison to white students, both Hispanic and Native American students exhibited a high propensity for participation in active, concrete learning experiences, cooperative situations, and elaborative processing” (“Minority Student Retention and Academic Achievement in Community Colleges,” K. Szelényi, ERIC EDO-JC-01-02 February, 2001).

Students in the new programs will take all of the courses in their major together, in classes that will not enroll more than thirty-five students, and will often be smaller. As a result, students in these new programs will be in Learning Communities that enable them to form meaningful relationships with peers and faculty, to feel comfortable about speaking during class discussions, and to discuss intellectual connections between courses outside of class. "Learning community students generally fare better academically, socially, and personally than those in comparison groups" (Miami University FIPSE Project <http://www.units.muohio.edu/flc/what.shtml>).

Studies show that a prime ingredient to insuring transfer students’ success is having academic support programs at the senior institution (“Trends and Issues in Transfer,” K. Kim, ERIC EDO-JC-01-06, July, 2001). Our supplemental instruction courses for students in the new programs at SDSU-IV will fulfill that function, in addition to the free tutoring and peer mentoring programs that SDSU-IV offers to all students.

Another strategy to facilitate our students’ achievement is hiring part-time advisers to serve the students in the new programs at IVC and SDSU-IV. “To increase the overall rate of transfer, enhanced counseling and advising services as well as faculty advising have been effective” (“Facilitating Transfer for First Generation Community College Students,” J. Striplin, ERIC EDO-JC-9905 June, 1999).

Scholarships

A 1987 study found that Hispanic transfer students who were given scholarships earned the baccalaureate degree more often and held higher GPAs than those without scholarships (“Clearing the Pathway,” L. Rendon and A. Nora, American Council on Education). As an institutional contribution to the grant project, SDSU-IV will provide scholarships to encourage the most academically qualified IVC students in the new 2+2 (associate’s to bachelor’s) programs to transfer to SDSU IV; scholarship recipients must also demonstrate financial need.

In addition, local hospitals will be asked to provide financial support for RN to BSN students as part of the partnerships established to defray the costs of training nurses.

Project Narrative

Key Personnel

Project Director Position Description and Time Commitment

The Project Director, Dr. Lianna Zhao, is the Chair of the Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Division, and a full-time tenured faculty at IVC. One of the proposed degree programs, computer science, will be under her jurisdiction as Division Chair. Due to her educational background in medicine, Dr. Zhao will be qualified to oversee the RN to BSN program, as well. Dr. Zhao's duties as Division Chair have prepared her for the supervisory, evaluation, planning, and budgetary roles of a Project Director: she is responsible for a budget of more than two million dollars annually; for supervising over fifty faculty and staff; for reporting on the Division's activities directly to IVC's Vice president of Academic Services and President; and for planning and evaluating the Division's activities, which include the construction of a new Science and Technology Center with laboratories in the coming years due to the recent passage of IVC's 58.6 million dollar county GO bond issue.

Dr. Zhao's other leadership roles have also prepared her for the role of Project Director: as Vice-President of IVC's Academic Senate, she has the knowledge of institutional policies and the faculty relationships needed to develop new curricula; as a member of IVC's Curriculum and Instruction Committee, she knows how to get new curricula approved; as a member of the Planning and Budget Committee, she understands IVC's fiscal policies.

Dr. Zhao's commitment of 50% of her time during the five academic years of the Title V Project, plus 50% during the summers, will allow her to complete her duties as Project Director.

As the Title V Project Director, Dr. Lianna Zhao will have the following duties:

- a. Coordinate and direct the implementation of all Title V activities;
- b. Authorize grant expenditures in accordance with Title V regulations.

- c. Ensure the appropriate utilization of Title V financial resources to create fiscal accountability;
- d. Ensure development of a sound evaluation system to measure each Title V activity and the total project;
- e. Prepare reports for the Department of Education in compliance with grant requirements , so that the project remains in full compliance through the funding period;
- f. Assist in the recruitment of qualified personnel for the various project activities;
- g. Arrange for the appropriate disposition and accounting for all equipment and materials acquired.

IVC Activity Co-Director Position Description and Time Commitment

Since our project is collaborative, Activity leadership roles will be shared between IVC and SDSU-IV, with an Activity Co-Director at each institution. The IVC Activity Co-Director, Celeste Armenta, will have the following duties:

- a. Oversee project staff at IVC, except for the administrative assistant, who reports to the Project Director.
- b. Ensure the full and punctual completion of all Activity Objectives.
- c. Assist in the hiring of all project staff, and in the hiring of the IVC faculty in the new bachelor's degree programs.
- d. Lead the efforts to develop, pilot, revise and augment curriculum and academic advising at IVC to serve the needs of the new bachelor's degree programs.
- e. In conjunction with the Project Director, the SDSU-IV Activity Co-Director, and relevant IVC faculty, determines the equipment needs for the new programs.
- f. Report monthly and quarterly, in writing, to the Project Director about progress on meeting Activity Objectives.

- g. Meet monthly with the Title V staff; coordinate with SDSU-IV Activity Co-Director and report once or twice a semester to the Title V Monitoring Team, to gather ideas for improving the Activity's Implementation Strategy.

Holding an MSN, Celeste Armenta is a lecturer in nursing at IVC who has experience working at both of the Imperial Valley hospitals with which our Title V project plans to form partnerships to help defray the cost of training nurses.

Ms. Armenta will devote 40% of her time to the Title V Project during its first three years, when many of the Project's Activities will occur at IVC. During Years 4-5, when most of the Activities will be conducted at SDSU-IV, Ms. Armenta's time commitment will be reduced to 5%.

SDSU-IV Activity Co-Director Position Description and Time Commitment

The duties for the Activity Co-Director at SDSU-IV are the same as those listed above for the IVC Activity Co-Director, except Dr. Jeanette Shumaker will focus on development of the bachelor's degree programs at SDSU-IV. In addition, the SDSU-IVC Activity Co-Director has the following duties:

- h. Authorize grant expenditures at SDSU-IV in accordance with Title V regulations and SDSU Foundation financial policies.
- i. Make sure Title V expenditures at SDSU-IV are in line with the amounts budgeted.
- j. Meet regularly with the Project Director and SDSU IV Dean to ascertain any needed budgetary changes.

Dr. Shumaker is the Director of the Title V Project currently in its fourth year at SDSU-IV, and wrote the proposal for that project, which includes the development of a new mathematics major. Her Title V experience will help her manage the spending of SDSU IV cooperative grant monies in accord with federal guidelines. In all Title V matters, she reports directly to the Dean of SDSU-IV, ensuring her access to the campus C.E.O. for Title V questions.

From 1993-99, Shumaker was the Activity Director for the Title III Project at SDSU-IV, which successfully completed its Activity Objectives and institutionalized its staff and functions. In addition to her eight years of experience with federal grants, Shumaker has taught English at SDSU-IV for twelve years, and is a full professor who has won several teaching awards.

For four years, she also was the SDSU-IV Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, supervising staff. She served on the SDSU-IV-IVC Liaison Committee, becoming familiar with IVC issues, while meeting IVC faculty and staff. Finally, Shumaker's experience with chairing and serving on faculty and staff search committees will help her perform her Activity Director duty of participating in searches for faculty in the new B.S. programs.

Shumaker's time commitment of 25% during the first three semesters of the Project will increase to 50% during subsequent semesters, plus 25% in the summer. (Starting in the second semester of Year 2, half of her 50% time will be paid for by Title V and half by SDSU-IV as an in-kind contribution.) This pattern fits the increasing level of bachelor's program development activities at SDSU-IV as the project progresses.

Project Narrative

(e) Quality of project management plan. (Total: 10 points) The extent to which--

(1) Procedures for managing the project are likely to ensure efficient and effective project implementation (5 points); and

(2) The project coordinator and activity directors have sufficient authority to conduct the project effectively, including access to the president or chief executive officer (5 points).

Project Management Plan Narrative

The management of this Cooperative Title V Project is designed to ensure: (1) the effective coordination and facilitation of this significant collaborative initiative; (2) a high level of connection with the chief executive officers and thereby the broader goals and aspirations of both institutions; and (3) the appropriate use of federal, community college and university resources.

a. Management and Monitoring Procedures

IVC President, Dr. Paul Pai, and SDSU IV Campus Dean, Dr. Stephen Roeder (working with the SDSU Foundation) will have fiscal oversight for the project and remain fully informed of its progress, primarily through participation in a Title V Internal Monitoring Team (IMT). The Internal Monitoring Team is comprised of administrators, faculty, classified employees, students from each institution, and community members. The Team will meet one or twice each semester to ensure appropriate and adequate access to information, input to managerial processes and decisions and participation in the central administrative function at both institutions. This will provide an effective means of ensuring consistent progress toward institutionalization. The Internal Monitoring Team will maintain regular communication with the Project Director by means of email.

The Title V Project Director will encourage Activity Co-Directors and staff to meet with her individually, frequently and informally. At such meetings, strategies for meeting Activity objectives will be discussed in an open and creative manner. In addition, each month, the Project Director will meet all Title V staff to discuss and solicit their input about the project's value and progress towards objectives. One or twice each semester, project staff will meet with the Internal Monitoring Team to assess progress on meeting objectives and to gain ideas for improving implementation strategies.

All of the Title V staff will submit monthly individual reports to each Activity Co-Director, who will write monthly and quarterly Activity reports that summarize progress towards meeting objectives. The Project Director will discuss such reports with the staff, the Internal Monitoring Team, and the External Evaluator before writing the annual project report.

The Project Director and Activity Co-Directors will also meet with a Community Leaders Advisory Board once or twice each semester to collect suggestions from county business, industry, and healthcare leaders.

b. Authority

Dr. Paul Pai, President of Imperial Valley College, the lead institution, will have overall responsibility for the Title V Project. He will delegate authority for the management to the Project Director. The Project Director will be assisted by a 25% Administrative/Clerical Assistant, two part-time Activity Co-Directors (one from each institution), a Program Specialist, Program Development Teams, and Student Services Teams. To assure that the Project Director will have full authority and autonomy to administer the project according to the approved plan, the Project Director will report directly to the Internal Monitoring Team, IVC President and SDSU-IV Campus Dean, providing access to the entire upper-level administrations at both institutions that are central to the functioning of all Title V activities. As a result, the administrators of both institutions will help with ongoing evaluation and refinement of the project and help to integrate its activities with institutional ones. Institutionalization will come naturally as key administrators will be aware of the value of project activities.

The Activity Co-Directors will report directly to the Project Director with full access to the IVC President and SDSU-IV Campus Dean and will have sufficient authority to conduct the daily management of the activity effectively. The Activity Co-Directors will have primary responsibility for the completion of Activity's objectives, as well as providing task management and monitoring.

The project staff will report to the Activity Co-Directors except for the Administrative/Clerical Assistant, who will report to the Project Director.

The attached organizational chart depicts the Project's placement within the management matrix of both institutions. This project's administrative structure allows the Project Director sufficient authority such that all personnel working on the Title V project are accountable to the Project Director for the work they do in relation to the project.

Project Narrative

(f) Quality of evaluation plan. (Total: 10 points) The extent to which--

(1) The data elements and the data collection procedures are clearly described and appropriate to measure the attainment of activity objectives and to measure the success of the project in achieving the goals of the comprehensive development plan (5 points); and

(2) The data analysis procedures are clearly described and are likely to produce formative and summative results on attaining activity objectives and measuring the success of the project on achieving the goals of the comprehensive development plan (5 points).

Evaluation Plan Narrative

Our evaluation plan contains ongoing, systematic methods for collection and analysis of both formative and summative data at IVC and SDSU-IV that will allow each partnering institution to assess and improve the project's implementation strategies and progress towards Activity Objectives and CDP Goals. Our Project Director will be able to adjust her management strategies based on evaluation results; reallocate resources if needed; and adjust project schedules and strategies in a timely fashion. As well as the internal analysis of project data conducted by the Project Director, Activity Co-Directors, and the Monitoring Team, a formal evaluation will be held annually by an expert external evaluator who is knowledgeable about Title V regulations.

Data Collection

Data elements for the assessment of CDP Goals, Activity Objectives, and Performance Indicators are comprised of the following: the number of IVC and SDSU-IV Hispanic enrollees and, at the end of the five-year project, of SDSU-IV Hispanic graduates in the bachelor's degree programs in computer science and nursing; the number of IVC transfer students by 2009-10 compared to 2001-02; the amount of new FTES generated at IVC and SDSU-IV by 2009-10 compared to 2004-05; the amount of private donations at IVC and SDSU-IV by 2009-10 compared to 2004-05; the date when joint-use laboratories at IVC begin to be used by SDSU-IV and the savings thereby created; the number of nursing students enrolled in a pediatric training rotation at a San Diego hospital; and the number of students benefited by partnerships between the bachelor's program in nursing and two local hospitals or health agencies to help defray nursing training costs.

Summary of Performance Indicators:

--IVC will institutionalize the funding for the new computer science and nursing instructors by 10/1/08.

--SDSU-IV will institutionalize funding for the two new full-time nursing faculty and the two new computer science faculty by 9/30/10.

--New FTES will make the new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's degree) programs self-sufficient at IVC and SDSU-IV by 9/30/10.

--By 9/30/10, IVC and SDSU-IV will have increased total FTES by 20% compared to 2004-05.

--By 9/30/10, IVC and SDSU-IV will have increased private donations by at least 10% compared to 9/30/05.

A total of 55 Hispanics will graduate from the two bachelor's degree programs at SDSU-IV by 9/30/10, as follows:

--at least 15 Hispanics with a B.S. in Computer Science.

--at least 40 Hispanics, many of them bilingual, with a BSN.

A total of at least 275 students will be enrolled in the new programs at IVC and SDSU-IV by 9/30/10, as follows:

Computer Science: At least 100 students since the program started.

Nursing: At least 175 students since the program started.

--At least 20 nursing students will complete a training rotation in pediatric care at a San Diego hospital by 9/30/10.

--By 9/30/10, two partnerships with local hospitals/health care agencies will be set up to defray the costs of educating nurses.

--Of the IVC students who started in the new programs in the fall of 2006 and 2007, 75% will complete all requirements for transfer to a four-year university by 9/30/10.

--By 9/30/10, the total number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV will have increased by 25% compared to 2001-02.

--By 9/30/10, the total number of IVC students who transfer to a four-year university will have increased by 13% compared to 2001-02.

Activity Co-Directors and staff will collect data at their respective institutions each month, analyzing and submitting the data to the Project Director in written monthly reports. Like all personnel supported through Title V funds, new faculty hired for the new 2+2 (associate's to bachelor's) degree programs will submit monthly reports to the Activity Co-Directors about their efforts to develop their programs. Activity Co-Directors and the Project Director will present project data and their analyses of it to the Title V Internal Monitoring Team--which includes the President of IVC and Dean of SDSU-IV, as well as faculty, staff, students and community members representing both institutions--at least once each semester. The monthly Activity reports to the Project Director as well as the discussions of the data with the Internal Monitoring

Team will allow ongoing reflection upon our progress towards Activity Objectives and the effectiveness of our implementation strategies. This will enable the Project Director to modify implementation schedules, budgets, and methods based on unexpected formative and summative data whose analysis suggests that different strategies are needed for the project to meet its objectives.

GPRS data on Academic Quality, Student Services and Outcomes, and Institutional Management and Fiscal Stability--including the number of new academic programs, joint use of laboratories, amount of private donations at each institution, and the number of faculty with terminal degrees--will be collected for the Project Director's annual report not only by project staff, but by the offices of institutional research, business, and development at the two institutions as needed.

Data Analysis

The baseline year for assessing the amount of private donations and FTES at each institution will be 2004-05, the year before the project begins. The baseline year for IVC transfer student data will be 2001-02, because that is the year for which data is currently available.

An external evaluator chosen by competitive bid will conduct an evaluation of our project each year. We will use an external evaluator to gain expert advice on our implementation strategies, our compliance with federal regulations and Title V procedures, and to ensure the evaluation's objectivity in telling us to what extent we are meeting our Activity Objectives and CDP Goals for Academic Programs, Institutional Management, and Fiscal Stability. Another benefit of retaining an external evaluator will be that the Project Director and Activity Co-Directors will improve their skills in program evaluation and management through the ongoing advice that the evaluator will provide via phone and email between site visits.

The external evaluator should have years of evaluation experience; leadership experience with Title V and other federal Department of Education grant programs that we can benefit from to annually improve our project's implementation strategies; a record of creating change and improvement at institutions of higher education; and experience with similar projects at institutions similar to ours.

The evaluator will conduct at least one site visit of both institutions each year to meet with the Project Director, Activity Co-Directors, and the Internal Monitoring Team to discuss the data elements collected to measure the project's progress towards meeting Activity Objectives and CDP Goals, and the problems experienced while trying to meet those targets; to talk with the Project Director about whether the budget has been sufficient for the implementation tasks and whether it has been appropriately distributed among those tasks; to talk with other members of the two institutions' communities to gather qualitative impressions regarding the perceived impact of the project at IVC and SDSU-IV; and to visit joint-use laboratories. The evaluator will also read the Project Director's annual report to Title V and the Activity reports on which the annual report is based; and will examine other documents from the project to ensure the project's compliance with Title V regulations before the annual report is submitted. After the site visit, the evaluator will write an annual report to the Project Director and Monitoring Team measuring the project's progress towards meeting CDP Goals and Activity Objectives; identifying problems or barriers that prevent the project from meeting its objectives; and suggesting ways to overcome such barriers through improved implementation strategies. At the end of the project's five years, the independent evaluator will submit a report on our project that the Project Director will both summarize within, and append to her final report to Title V that is due within 90 days of our project's completion.

As well as reporting upon the progress towards meeting Activity Objectives and CDP goals, the Project Director's final report will assess our project's impact upon the ability of SDSU-IV and IVC to collaborate--describing to what extent the institutional cultures have become cooperative, making future collaborations likely. Progress towards institutionalization will also be addressed.

As mentioned in the data collection section of this evaluation narrative, the Activity Co-Directors will analyze the data they have collected in their monthly written reports to the Project Director, and discuss these reports with her in monthly meetings. Reflection will occur about what works and what doesn't, as progress on meeting Activity Objectives and CDP goals is closely examined, and the reasons for success or failure analyzed.

The Activity Co-Directors and the Project Director will further discuss their analysis of the data with the Internal Monitoring Team (IMT) at least once each semester—more often if Activity Objectives and CDP goals are not being met. From meeting with the IMT the project's three managers will gain fresh perspectives upon their implementation strategies from the constituents of both institutions—ranging from students, to community members, and from faculty, to top administrators. The intent is that the IMT will provide institution-wide perspectives for the project to learn from. Brainstorming stronger implementation strategies will be an important part of each meeting with the IMT. Institutionalization will be another focus of discussion with the monitoring team, which will evaluate to what extent project activities have been incorporated by each institution, and what further steps need to be taken. The IMT will consider whether the institutions have been supportive of the project's activities, and what further support--in terms of facilities or services--might be needed. The IMT will also explore the unforeseen benefits or problems that have resulted for students, faculty, and staff due to the project's activities.

In addition, the Project Director and Activity Co-Directors will meet with a Community Leaders Advisory Board once or twice a semester to hear business, industry, and healthcare leaders' ideas for improving the project—and to ascertain the project's impact on county employment development and healthcare.

The Project Director's annual report to Title V will provide another opportunity for insightful analysis of our Activity data to ascertain reasons for the project's level of progress towards meeting its Activity Objectives and CDP goals—our summative results—that will generate dynamic new approaches to improve implementation and management strategies for the coming year.

Project Narrative

(g) Budget. (Total: 5 points). The extent to which the proposed costs are necessary and reasonable in relation to the project's objectives and scope.

Budget Narrative

All activities and costs included in this Title V Cooperative Project are allowable according to the Title V regulations. All costs were carefully researched before inclusion and represent reasonable expenses in the current market. All costs are necessary to accomplish the activity objectives. There is one activity and two partner institutions in this project. A separate budget exists for each institution that includes costs for each year. In addition, there is a separate budget for the management and evaluation of the project that includes costs of each year. The percentage of overall project costs ($3,478,532) attributable to each institution and the management and evaluation, administered by IVC, are shown below.

| Institution             | Amount      | Percentage of Overall Budget |
|-------------------------|-------------|------------------------------|
| IVC                     | $1,298,281 | 37.32%                       |
| SDSU-IV                 | $1,718,015 | 49.39%                       |
| Management & Evaluation | $462,236   | 13.29%                       |

IVC Activity Budget

Because starting two new 2 + 2 (associates to bachelor’s) degree programs requires much human effort, most of our Activity costs are in Personnel/ Fringe Benefits. IVC’s costs are much heavier than SDSU-IV’s during Years 1-2 because IVC will offer the first two years of courses in the two new associate’s to bachelor’s degree programs.

A. Personnel: Annual 5% raises are budgeted for all positions. Funds are requested based on current salary of the person identified. All personnel positions are budgeted on a 10-month basis excluding the Program Specialist, and Program Counselor whose positions are budgeted on a 12-month basis. Stipends for faculty in other fields are budgeted at a one-time basis.

IVC proposes to use Title V funds to support a 66% time ($40,000) Title V Program Specialist evenly split (33% time, $20,000) between the two institutions. This Title V Program Specialist will assist IVC and SDSU-IV Activity Co-Directors with the two new programs, Activity planning, data analysis, ordering items, budgets, and other paperwork. At the same time, IVC provides district funds in the amount of $20,000 to make this a full-time position with additional duties in resource development; after this grant expires, IVC will fully absorb the position.

| Year 1   | Year 2   | Year 3   | Year 4   | Year 5   |

| $20,000 | $21,000 | $22,050 | $23,153 | $24,310 |

The IVC Activity Co-Director, Celeste Armenta, will be released from her teaching responsibilities at 40% time in Year 1-3, and 5% time in Year 4-5, when most of the work of establishing the lower division of the two new associate’s to bachelor’s degree programs will have been completed. Title V funds are requested to pay the cost of her replacement. This position will not be needed after the grant expires.

She will then work at 5% funded by Title V in Year 3-5, helping the Activity Co-Director form the second nursing partnership with a local health organization/hospital, setting up the training rotation center in San Diego, and orienting the SDSU-IV nursing professor 2 and 3 in utilizing the IVC nursing lab facilities and equipment. Title V funds are requested to pay the cost of the replacement during the grant period and the position will not be needed after the grant expires.

IVC will pay for the consumable materials during the grant period as an in-kind contribution and replacement of other instructional supplies starting in Year 3.

Institutional Contribution

The nursing instructor will be institutionalized at the start of Year 3, at a salary/ benefits cost of about $272,543 as an in-kind contribution from IVC over three years. The computer science instructor will be institutionalized at the start of Year 4, at a salary/ benefits cost of about $177,223 over two years as an IVC in-kind contribution. We have used Year 1 salaries and benefits when calculating the above in-kind contribution. Even without considering the 5% yearly salary increase, IVC’s total in-kind contribution to the project comes to about $449,766.

SDSU-IV Activity Budget Narrative

A total of $1,718,015 is requested for the SDSU-IV Activity. Because the focus of our project is starting two new 2+2 bachelor’s degree programs in critically needed fields, personnel/ fringe benefit costs comprise most of our budget. SDSU-IV’s share of the total budget is heavy during Years 4-5, as it offers the last two years of courses for the new bachelor’s degree programs.

A. Personnel: Salaries over five years total $1,040,530.

The Title V Program Specialist will work 33% at SDSU-IV (and 33% at IVC), assisting the SDSU-IV Activity Co-Director with the establishment of the three new programs, Activity planning, data analysis, ordering items, budgets, and other paperwork. H. Other: The total expenditure budgeted as Other is $122,526.

1. $63,193 is budgeted for the Computer Science program instructional materials: Computer science lab routers, switches, etc. are necessary for Cisco CCIE certification instruction of computer science program. This high-end “Cisco lab” will give students hands-on experience in designing, constructing, and administering networks that incorporate all kinds of Cisco hardware. These switches and routers are distinct from those listed above for the classroom network, because the Cisco networking classes will include exercises for “breaking” networks, disabling devices etc., and we don’t want those exercises to compromise the classroom network. SDSU-IV Computer Science Department will enroll in the Microsoft MSANAA program at the cost of $800 per year. All of the computer science students and faculty can get free download of virtually all Microsoft products.

Institutional Contribution:

SDSU-IV is paying for 25% per academic year release time from teaching for the Activity Co-Director from the second semester of Year 2 through the end of Year 5, a total of $106,284 contribution to her salary and benefits.

100% of the salary/ benefits for the first tenure-track nursing professor are paid by SDSU-IV in Year 5, at about $91,000, fully institutionalizing this position. 25% of the salary/ benefits of the second nursing professor are taken over by SDSU-IV in Year 5, at about $22,750, mostly institutionalizing this position. The total in-kind contribution to nursing is about $113,750. SDSU-IV will purchase computers/ printers for the new tenure-track faculty members in the three programs at about $1,800 x 4 faculty = $7,200. The total SDSU IV contribution to the project is about $227,234, even without counting the renovation or computer lab cabling and equipment costs.

Project Management and Evaluation Budget

A. Personnel

The tasks noted in the Project Management and Evaluation narrative are complex and demanding. Funds are requested based on current salary of the person identified. In all years, the Project Director, Dr. Lianna Zhao, from IVC, will work 50% time for Title V during the academic years and 50% during the summers, managing and coordinating the project at both institutions. During all academic years, she will be released 25% time from her current teaching responsibilities and Title V funds are requested to pay the cost of replacement. She will also work above and beyond her regular teaching load to take on the responsibilities of project coordinator. Her additional 25% time during all academic years is paid by Title V at 25% of her salary as stipend. During all summers, the Project Director's pay by Title V is calculated at $50 an hour x 4 hours per day x 43 days as stipend.

|               | Year 1   | Year 2   | Year 3   | Year 4   | Year 5   |

| Summer        | $8,600  | $9,030  | $9,482  | $9,5956 | $10,453 |

A 25% time Administrative Assistant is requested. Besides having primary responsibility for administrative and clerical support to the Project Director, this assistant also supports liaison with administrative units at other partners and with the Title V office, as needed. Pay is calculated at $18 an hour x 10 hours per week x 50 weeks per year.

Annual 5% raises are budgeted for all positions.

B. Fringe Benefits

Fringe benefits, total of $104,145, are calculated at 33% in accord with IVC policy.

for Improving Assistance to Hispanic and Low-Income Students

As the only two institutions of higher education in Imperial County, IVC and SDSU-IV share a mission of providing high-quality education to rural first-generation, Hispanic, and low-income students. Adding up our student populations, our two colleges serve over 9,000 students, at least 80% of whom are Hispanic, and over half of whom receive financial aid. Individually, IVC and SDSU-IV pursue numerous efforts to assist at-risk Hispanic and low-income students, including tutoring centers, outreach programs, ESL and developmental writing and math courses, and fundraising for scholarships.

Together, we present the following strategies for improving our services to Hispanic and low-income students.

1. Secure and/ or maintain funding from Title V to support three new bachelor's degree programs in biology, computer science, and nursing. These programs will expand the pipeline of professional careers for Hispanic and low-income students who are place-bound.
2. Develop the joint use of smart classrooms and extension campuses to better serve place-bound Hispanic and low-income students (not just the joint laboratories planned for the Title V project).
3. Create dual admission policies for 2+2 degree programs.
4. Share faculty and professional staff when appropriate, to ease recruitment difficulties—particularly recruitment of minority faculty. Develop additional common strategies for the recruitment and retention of Hispanic faculty and professional staff.

Dear Title V:

For several months I have been an active member of the Title V collaborative grant planning team and am happy to register my support for the proposal, "Expanding Career Opportunities for Rural Hispanics: New 2+2 Bachelor's Degree Programs in Imperial County, California," submitted on behalf of Imperial Valley College (IVC), the lead institution, and San Diego State University, Imperial Valley (SDSU-IV).

The application IVC submitted electronically accurately reflects the terms of the cooperative arrangement between IVC, the lead institution, and SDSU-IV. IVC will carry out its part of implementing the Title V project of starting 2+2 bachelor's degree programs in computer science and nursing. IVC will also comply with all assurances and Federal regulations applicable to Title V grantees. The application's budget correctly represents IVC's share of the overall project's funds.

Your considering of our application is very much appreciated.

Section 1: Executive Summary

The purpose of the legislation that established the Title V program is to “expand educational opportunities for, and improve the academic attainment of Hispanic students; and expand and enhance the academic offerings, program quality, and institutional stability of colleges and universities that are educating the majority of Hispanic college students and helping large numbers of Hispanic students and other low-income individuals complete postsecondary education.”

A. This section summarizes how the grant enabled the institution to fulfill the legislative intent of the Title V program.

1. The impact of the Title V grant on the institution's capacity to contribute to fulfilling the goals of the legislation.

In the No Cost Extension (NCE) year, the Title V Cooperative Arrangement grant between Imperial Valley College (IVC) and San Diego State University Imperial Valley Campus (SDSU-IV) has expanded educational opportunities for, and improved the academic attainment of Hispanic students. The academic offerings, program quality, and institutional stability of colleges and university that are educating the majority of Hispanic college students and helping large numbers of Hispanic students and other low-income individuals complete postsecondary education in rural Imperial County.

The RN to BSN program has enrolled 24 new and 15 non-duplicated count continuing students, for a total of 35 new and 37 non-duplicated count continuing students in the NCE year. During the course of the project, the program has produced 26 graduates with a BSN and 10 of them are Hispanic and bilingual. Clearly, there is a demand for the program by students and, as has been demonstrated throughout the Project, the health care facilities that employ the graduates. While SDSU-IV has absorbed the salary of one nursing faculty member, not two as intended, but, SDSU-IV has used adjunct faculty and differing modes of delivering instruction in attempts to make the program more cost-effective.

2. How has the grant helped to carry out the mission of the institution?

This grant has, without question, helped carry out the missions of both partner institutions. Imperial Valley College's mission is to “foster excellence in education that challenges students of every background to develop their intellect, character, and abilities; to assist students in achieving their educational and career goals; and to be responsive to the greater community.” The College has established two high quality and sustainable programs. Forty-four students started the new 2+2 programs in Fall 2006 and Fall 2007. 26 or 59% of these students have transferred and/or are transfer ready to a four-year university by 8/2011. The addition of a 4-year program in the local community improves the marketability or viability of any 2-year programs.

SDSU-IV's mission is to prepare students for success in their professions and graduate school. Both the computer science and BS in nursing programs further SDSU-IV's mission by allowing our students to pursue professions that weren't available before the awarding of the Title V grant. In Spring 2011, 8 students graduated with a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science. Of the 26 RN to BSN graduates to date, 7 are in graduate school, showing that the graduate school piece of SDSU-IV's mission is being promoted by the grant project. These SDSU-IV alumni who will earn master's degrees in nursing will add valuable expertise to the small community, a definite contribution to the quality of local health care. The addition of the Computer Science program and the expansion of the Nursing program have both created additional options for local students, composed of diverse backgrounds and experiences, to continue their education and compete for jobs.

3. How did the cooperative arrangement aspect of the grant benefit the institutions involved?

The NCE year allowed the partner institutions to complete critical activities, fulfill most of the grant's approved objectives, and make the most effective use of the Title V investment. This point is illustrated by the original objectives specifying target percentages of transfer-ready students and increases in the actual numbers of transfer between IVC and SDSU-IV. The number of IVC students who transferred to SDSU-IV in the academic year of 2001-2002 was 201, which was used as the baseline data. The number of IVC students who transferred to SDSU-IV from Fall 2010 to Fall 2011 was 347. The total number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV has increased by 72% compared to 2001-02.

While there is no statistically rigorous research design that can draw a clear correlation between Project activities and this outcome, it is reasonable to assume that these gains in transfer are a result of a combination of factors addressed and engendered by the Project. That is, by entering into the partnership and pursuing joint activities, by increasing communication and collaboration beyond what the Project specifically required, and by raising the awareness in the Valley of these activities, IVC and SDSU-IV had a diffuse but profound and systemic impact on access to higher education for Valley residents.

B. The following information documents the institution's experience with the grant as reported during the current reporting period.

Discuss the long-range impact Title V has had on your institution's capacity to fulfill the goals of the legislation.

Imperial Valley College benefited from the Title V grant support through the addition of a new 2-year computer science program that has created career and transfer opportunities for students, many of whom would not have been able to take such classes locally since computer science courses were not offered at IVC prior to the grant. IVC also expended its Associate of Science Degree in Nursing (AND) into the lower division course preparations for a new 4-year BSN program. Those 2+2 programs generated FTES for the College, increased public awareness of the quality of the institution, and had created a local awareness of the quality of healthcare. SDSU-IV nursing students have continued to use a computer simulation lab at IVC that was equipped with Title V money. This joint use lab saves money, creates efficiency, and offers an excellent educational experience for students. The 2+2 arrangement has also facilitated coordination and cooperation in advising during the transfer between institutions. The overall value of the grant lies more with the opportunities created by the partnership itself with the pathways to careers created by these two specific program areas. The Project raised the expectations of Valley residents about greater higher education opportunities, and demonstrated that there is very likely wider demand for 2+2 programs of this type.

In NCE year, besides the current cooperative grant project with SDSU-IV, IVC also was awarded an individual Title V grant: Access to Technology Leads to Advancement and Success (ATLAS). The grant has two primary areas of focus – an IT side and an academic side. The IT activities include enhancing our enterprise computing system which will include database training for Banner end users, installing a campus wide robust wireless system, providing students with email accounts and account space, implementing a debit card system for students that they can use campus wide, and hiring a systems engineer to implement the infrastructure necessary for the activities. The academic activities include providing instructional technology/smart podiums for high use classrooms, and providing additional computer lab workstations to improve access for students to technology. Conferences and workshops were held to train faculty who were selected through an application process. They received training in three areas: Improving learning through culturally responsive teaching; using collaboration, contextualized learning, and paired classes to improve student success; and using technology to improve student retention and success. The funding through the grant this year also provided for guest speakers to provide forums for all our staff. The train-the-trainers conferences were the basis for a viable professional development program at our college well into the future. To implement the infrastructure required for the systems listed above, a Director of Enterprise Systems has been hired. The grant will pay 100% of the salary and benefits the first two years. This grant funding provides certainty that we can move forward with professional development and with infrastructure that will improve the current situation for students, faculty, and staff. The Title V grant funding supported our mission of quality education for students.

A past individual Title V grant, the ACCESO project, has enabled IVC to start and expand distance education offerings, and through those offerings to reach a greater number of students that might have otherwise failed to complete their courses, or had a much more difficult time of it. By the end of ACCESO project on 9-30-10, 53 on-line courses have been developed, 664 sections of hybrid or on-line courses have been offered, 15,129 students have enrolled in hybrid or on-line courses, and 156 faculty have received on-line teaching technology training.

A past individual Title V grant allowed SDSU-IV to develop a new mathematics major, a scholarship endowment and a natural science laboratory. The current cooperative grant builds on the success of the past SDSU-IV Title V grant in expanding educational opportunities for students in a county with high unemployment and no other 4-year institutions of higher learning.

The combined impact of those four Title V grants will provide more opportunities for local Hispanics and to increase both institutions' capacity to serve the community whose population is over 80% Hispanic. Hispanic students can continue their post-secondary education at or near home, any time, and beyond the community college.

If your institution has experienced any unexpected outcomes as a result of this grant, that affect for better or worse its capacity to fulfill the goals of the legislation, tell us about them here.

There was additional evidence of the program's quality. Many of the RN to BSN students were offered promotions by their current employers even before completing the program. The program has been recognized across the state as an innovative model for BSN education. The program has created or made possible numerous other opportunities for its students, such as the recently held 3rd annual Imperial Valley Nursing Conference; the Summer 2011 Mexicali Experience; extensive collaboration with SDSU's School of Public Health; and the involvement of RN to BSN students in a new $6 million Centers for Disease Control research grant to study childhood obesity in Imperial County. It is also clear that the Title V resources have greatly expanded the quality of the ADN program at IVC, which continues to provide a solid basis for two-year nursing students who want and need to pursue the BSN. Both IVC and SDSU-IV have attained broader, stronger levels of communication and collaboration than previously existed.

Tell us about any challenges that you have had during the reporting period or that you anticipate in the coming year which may affect your ability to meet the goals of your grant. Include, if applicable, your institution's plans to meet these challenges.

The creation of new Computer Science program capacity at SDSU-IV has been consistently challenging since the inception of the Project. The goal of improving access seems to have run aground on issues of sustainability and the affordability is on the University side of this cooperative arrangement project. Some of this stems from the budgetary/economic environment in the State, and it is clearly expensive to develop baccalaureate level programs in the Imperial Valley. On the other hand, the Computer Science Program at IVC is viable and sustainable, and this is the case with the Nursing program, as well. In addition, clearly, there is great value for the students of both Computer Science programs (the student-driven creation of IVTech is powerful evidence of this), for potential employers, even for the prospect of entrepreneurial activities by graduates. Finally in the process, significant strides were made in the working relationship between the partners, thereby creating the potential for further collaborative activities in the future.

Focus Area: Academic Quality Outcomes (2- and 4-Year Institutions)

This section depicts institutional outcomes that can be categorized in the Academic Quality focus area. Information is provided on the measures that the grantee felt were most reflective of their activities supported by Title III/IV funds for the current reporting period. Grantees were required to answer at least two of the measures questions.

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Has the institution's library holdings increased?  | Yes |
| If yes:                 Initial holdings 51700                 Final holdings 52000                 Goal 0 I would like to provide a brief supporting statement: SDSU-IV Campus added 300 volumes (books) and 84 DVDs/videos to make a total of 52,000 holdings. In addition, SDSU-IV Campus piggybacks into the San Diego Campus system and therefore gets all new San Diego holdings available as well through the online library system and inter-campus library loan. Title V funds supported purchase of teaching supplies for the health education library held within the SDSU-IV RN-BS Program office. The new holdings are largely used for teaching projects conducted throughout the NURS 415: Community Health class.   |     |
| Have the institution's educational technology infrastructure improved?   | Yes |
| If yes:                 Start Fair                 End Good                 Goal 0 I would like to provide a brief supporting statement: SDSU-IV has better used our ITS and blackboard (online classroom systems). The interactive TV classroom is now being used by social work &amp; special education majors.   |     |
| Has the quality of the institution's classroom space improved?   | Yes |
| If yes:                 Start Good                 End Excellent                 Goal 0 I would like to provide a brief supporting statement: The quality of the classroom space has improved. In the nursing simulation labs new Headwalls were installed to replace those that had been donated to IVC in the late 1980's. The new Headwalls are similar to those found in the local hospitals. The nursing computer lab was also updated with new computers to replace the 10 year old computers. The quality of the classroom has improved at SDSU-IV Campus. N102 received new videoconferencing equipment, microphones for lecturers and replaced the previous cooling system. Within the nursing lab at SDSU-IV Campus, the air conditioning unit was replaced. |     |
| Has the enrollment of minority students increased?   | Yes |
| If yes:                 Initial enrollment 193                 Final enrollment 213                 Goal 0 I would like to provide a brief supporting statement: Of the 24 new students admitted to the SDSU-IV RN-BS Program, 20 were minority, which was the largest enrollment since the program began.  |     |

Section 4: Project Status

Continued funding requires evidence of substantial progress towards meeting the activity objectives. Below is a list of objectives for each activity carried out over the current reporting period of the grant.

ACTIVITY: Expanding Career Opportunities for Rural Hispanics: New 2+2 Bachelor's Degree Programs in Imperial County, California.

On-Schedule Activity Objectives

SDSU-IV will enroll at least thirty new students and thirty continuing students in the B.S. degree program in nursing.

Narrative Supporting Completed Objectives

Below are statements with data and references to goals stated in the grant application as appropriate to document the objectives that were "completed" during each year of the grant.

| Activity Objective(s)  | Evidence of Completion  |
|--|---|
| By 9/30/11, the total number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV will have increased by 25% compared to 2001-02. | The number of IVC students who transferred to SDSU-IV in the academic year of 2001-2002 was 201 (125 for Fall 2001 and 76 for Spring 2002). The number of IVC students who transferred to SDSU-IV in the academic year of 2010-2011 was 218 (Fall 2010-168, Spring 2011-50), and in the Fall 2011 was 129, totaling 347. The total number of IVC students who transfer to SDSU-IV has increased by 72% ((347-201)/201) compared to 2001-02. |

Changes in Objective Schedule

Below are statements with data and references to goals stated in the grant application as appropriate to support and explain the need for objective schedule changes.

| Activity Objective(s)   | Reason(s) for Change  | Expected Completion Date |
|---|---|--------------------------|
| By 9/30/11, SDSU-IV will graduate at least 40 Hispanics, many of them bilingual, with a BSN.  | By 9/30/11 26 students graduated with a BSN (4 in Spring 2009, 3 in Summer 2009, 1 in Fall 2009, 6 in Spring 2010, 3 in Summer 2010, 1 in Fall 2010, 6 in Spring 2011, 2 in Summer 2011.) 10 are Hispanic and bilingual (3 in Spring 2009, 2 in Summer 2009, 4 in Spring 2010, 1 in Summer 2010, 1 in Fall 2010, 3 in Spring 2011, 1 in Summer 2011.) The reason for not reaching the goal is that the cohorts entering the program at SDSU-IV from Fall 2006 to Spring 2009 were less  | N/A                      |
| By 10/1/10, SDSU-IV will institutionalize funding for one of the two full-time nursing faculty, and for the other by 9/30/11.   | SDSU-IV hired the full-time Nursing faculty one but did not hire the full-time Nursing faculty two (two were planned in the proposal). SDSU-IV institutionalized funding for faculty one Hoyt starting October 2011.  | N/A                      |
| Of the IVC students who started the new 2+2 programs in fall of 2006 and 2007, 75% will have completed all requirements for transfer to a four-year university by 8/2011. | Forty-four students started the new 2+2 programs in Fall 2006 and Fall 2007 (9 in Fall 2006 CS 210, 9 in Fall 2006 CS 210, and 26 in Fall 2007 Chem 140). 26 or 59% of these students (11 of the CS students and 15 Chem 140 students) have transferred and/or are transfer ready to a four-year university by 8/2011. The percentage of students who have completed all requirements for transfer to a four-year university is lower than projected. One of the reasons is that the CSU System has implemented a no admission policy | N/A                      |

Section 4: Line Item Budget Narrative

This section provides an explanation of how funds will be expended as a result of in each of the selected line item categories.

Personnel

A total of $148,477.06 was expended in salaries for personnel.

$57,025.40 was expended in support of Management and Evaluation activities performed by Zhao and Boyle at IVC.

SDSU-IV expended $91,451.66 in activities performed by Nursing Faculty Hoyt and Nursing Academic Advisor Dollente.

Fringe Benefits

A total of $52,400.67 was expended on benefits.

$13,044.79 was expended in support of Management and Evaluation activities.

SDSU-IV expended $39,355.88 in support of Nursing Faculty Hoyt and Nursing Academic Advisor Dollente.

Travel

A total of $6,055.72 was spent on travel.

A total of $5,818.97 was spent at IVC. This includes travel for the Project Director to attend the Project Director Annual Conference at Washington DC and the Title V Southwest Region Best Practices conference.

SDSU-IV spent $236.75 in travel funds including costs related to Hoyt's attendance at the Association of California Nurse Leaders in San Diego, CA. Travel included attending meetings, forums, and trainings.

Equipment

A total of $40,132.00 was spent on Equipment.

IVC spent at total of $40,143.00 on equipment for the nursing simulation lab that is shared between both IVC and SDSU-IV campuses. An adult mannequin and associated accessories were purchased.

Supplies

A total of $2,417.72 was spent for supplies.

Management and Evaluation spent $1,896.46 on supplies. These supplies were used for meeting preparation and communication with project staff as well as general office supplies used in the course of the project.

SDSU-IV spent $521.26 on postage/mailings, office supplies and photocopying expenses incurred for assisting in the Imperial Valley Nursing Council (IVNC) Conference.

Other

A total of $118,678.33 was expended.

IVC spent $118,267.04. $47,794.18 was spent on a variety of computer science and nursing instructional supplies. $65,472.86 was spent for computers and related supplies for the computer science and nursing lab used by students. The remaining $5,000 was expended for an external evaluator.

SDSU spent $411.29 on other direct costs related to the Imperial Valley Nursing Council conference. These costs including professional printing services and small tokens provided to conference presenters.

Section 4: Budget Summary Narrative

This section provides an explanation of budget changes, particularly the use of funds from cost savings, carryover funds and other expanded authorities changes to the budget including a description of any significant changes to the budget resulting from modifications of project activities.

This report is for our project's No Cost Extension (NCE) year or sixth year and there were no modifications of project activities in NCE year.

A total of $148,477 was expended on salary and benefits at SDSU-IV and at IVC Management and Evaluation activities, $6055.72 on travel for the project staff, $40,132.00 for project instructional equipment, $2,417.72 for office supplies, and $118,678.33 for instructional supplies and an External Evaluator.

We have a total of $9,120.38 remaining funds at the end of the NCE year. The main reason for unexpended funds was that we had to cancel a couple of PO's because the items had not arrived at the end of NCE year.

IVC continues supporting, by paying out of College funds, RN to BSN and computer science programs, two tenure-track faculty positions, outreach effort, and some instructional supplies. SDSU-IV started to absorb RN to BSN program at the end of NCE year in a similar fashion. The nursing courses at SDSU-IV are still offered over interactive TV from SDSU-SD with live clinical labs in the Imperial Valley. This ITV strategy continues representing an effective long-term solution for SDSU-IV, since it is less expensive and therefore more sustainable.

The NCE allowed the partner institutions to complete critical activities, fulfilled most of the grant's approved objectives, and made the most effective use of the Title V investment.

Overview of Minimum Qualifications and the Disciplines Lists

This eighth edition of Minimum Qualifications for Faculty and Administrators in California Community Colleges is an update of the disciplines lists including those adopted by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges at their regularly scheduled meeting on November 2, 2009. It incorporates changes that resulted from recommendations from the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges and its delegates, and a comprehensive review of regulations regarding the minimum qualifications and disciplines lists. This change amends the previous edition. It is intended to be effective immediately and should be employed as appropriate in each community college district. A summary of the changes to the Master's List and the new category of disciplines requiring a Specific Bachelor's or Associate Degree List are noted below:

INTRODUCTION

History of Minimum Qualifications and the Disciplines Lists

The complete disciplines lists with revisions to that adopted by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges were designed to replace the system of credentials that was in force until June 30, 1990. The relevant sections of the Education Code were adopted by the Legislature in September 1988, as part of AB 1725, the community college reform bill.

Significant amendments were made by AB 2155 and SB 1590 of 1989, SB 2298 of 1990, and SB 343 of 1993. Faculty internship programs were authorized by SB 9 of 1991. The disciplines lists used to implement the minimum qualifications for credit instructors, counselors, and librarians are incorporated by reference into the Board's regulations.

These lists were prepared and reviewed primarily by the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges. They were first adopted in July 1989, underwent minor revisions in November 1990, May 1991, September 1993, September 1996, April 1999, November 2002, September 2005, November 2007, and November 2009.

Process to Initiate Changes to the Disciplines Lists

Users of this booklet are encouraged to forward recommendations for additions, changes, and/or suggestions through their local academic senates to the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges or to the Academic Affairs Division of the Chancellor's Office. The Academic Senate and Academic Affairs Division in the Chancellor's Office continually monitor issues and questions relating to minimum qualifications.

The Academic Senate regularly considers changes to these lists, and recommendations from the Senate to the Board of Governors are developed through active collaboration between the local senates, professional organizations within the state, and the Chancellor's Office. The resulting minimum qualifications serve as a statewide benchmark for promoting professionalism and rigor within the academic disciplines in the community colleges and a guideline for day-to-day decisions regarding suitability for employment in the system.

Districts may establish local qualifications beyond the minimum standards defined in the Disciplines Lists, and they have flexibility in how they organize courses within disciplines, how to apply equivalency, and how to develop criteria and employ processes to select administrators and instructors. Development of local processes for applying the minimum qualifications requires mutual agreement between the board of trustees and the academic senate.

INTRODUCTION

Guidelines for the Using Discipline Lists

These disciplines lists must be used in conjunction with the Board of Governors minimum qualifications regulations (title 5, sections 53400-53430). Applicable rules specified in title 5 include the following:

- Degrees and credits generally must be from accredited institutions (section 53406).
- An occupational license or certificate is required in certain instances (section 53417).
- A district may hire a person who possesses qualifications different from, but equivalent to, those listed on the disciplines list, according to criteria and procedures agreed upon by the governing board and the academic senate (section 53430).

Title 5 regulations also specify minimum qualifications for additional faculty members, including health services professionals, non-credit instructors, apprenticeship instructors, DSP&S personnel, EOPS personnel, learning assistance and tutoring coordinators, and work experience coordinators.

Further, these lists only reflect the statewide minimums for persons to be considered qualified to teach in a discipline. Each district may establish additional qualifications which are more rigorous than those listed herein.

Types of Discipline Lists Included in the Handbook

Since its inception, the Disciplines List had been divided into two parts to differentiate those disciplines for which a Master's degree is required as a precondition for employment, from those for which it is not. Generally, disciplines have been included on the Master's List if universities typically offer sufficient upper-division and graduate instruction in applicable subjects to permit their awarding advanced degrees in that discipline. On the other hand, disciplines for which there is no or limited graduate training, as found in some career and technical education fields, have been included on the non-Master's List. In those cases where a Master's degree is not generally expected or available, the minimum standard has been a Bachelor's degree in any subject, plus two years of work experience directly related to the teaching assignment or an Associate degree in any subject, plus six years of work experience directly related to the teaching assignment.

In May 2009, the California Community Colleges Board of Governors approved changes to title 5, sections 53407 and 53410 to allow the creation of a third option within the minimum qualifications to be defined requiring a Bachelor's or Associate degree in a specific discipline, plus requisite years of professional experience. There are four types of discipline lists contained in this handbook.

INTRODUCTION

| List Type   | Description  | Starts on Page |
|---|--|----------------|
| Alphabetical listing of the disciplines   | This is a list of all the disciplines from A to Z. This combined list contains all of the disciplines on one list: Disciplines requiring a Master's degree; Disciplines in Which a Master's Degree is Not Generally Expected or Available but Which Requires a Specific Bachelor's or Associate Degree and Commensurate Professional Experience; and Disciplines in Which a Master's Degree is not Generally Expected or Available, but which requires any Bachelor's or Associate Degree and commensurate professional experience.  | 4              |
| Disciplines requiring a Master's degree   | This is an alphabetical list of all of the disciplines that require a Master's degree or its equivalent. This category contains mostly academic and transfer disciplines. Whenever this list mentions a Master's degree, any degree in the discipline beyond the Master's would also satisfy that qualification. Under each of the disciplines in this list, the phrase 'OR the equivalent' refers to the possibility of hiring faculty who do not possess the exact degrees listed, under a local process developed and agreed upon by representatives of the governing board and the academic senate, as provided for in Education Code Section 87359 and title 5, section 53430.  | 40             |
| Disciplines in which a Master's degree is not generally expected or available but which requires a specific Bachelor's or Associate degree and commensurate professional experience | The Academic Senate for California Community Colleges has recognized the growing gap between the structure for determining minimum qualifications and the evolving nature of teaching disciplines. As such, this is a new category created in May 2009. Disciplines on this list require a Bachelor's or Associate degree in a specific area, plus a specified number of years of experience. The first and only discipline on this list was approved by the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges in November 2009. The first discipline is Biotechnology, which requires a Bachelor's degree in biological sciences or chemistry or biochemistry or engineering, and two years of full-time related work experience. | 49             |

DISCIPLINES REQUIRING A MASTER’S DEGREE

This section of the handbook contains a list of the disciplines requiring a Master’s degree. These disciplines lists must be used in conjunction with the Board of Governors minimum qualifications regulations (title 5, sections 53400-53430). Applicable rules specified in title 5 include the following:

- Degrees and credits generally must be from accredited institutions (section 53406).
- An occupational license or certificate is required in certain instances (section 53417).
- A district may hire a person who possesses qualifications different from, but equivalent to, those listed on the disciplines list, according to criteria and procedures agreed upon by the governing board and the academic senate (section 53430).

Whenever this list mentions a master’s degree, any degree beyond the master’s would also satisfy that qualification.

Under each of the disciplines below, the phrase ‘OR the equivalent’ refers to the possibility of hiring faculty who do not possess the exact degrees listed, under a local process developed and agreed upon by representatives of the governing board and the academic senate, as provided for in Education Code Section 87359 and title 5, section 53430.

Further, these lists only reflect the statewide minimums for persons to be considered qualified to teach in a discipline. Each district may establish additional qualifications which are more rigorous than those listed herein.

CHAPTER 2.5 QUALIFICATIONS FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE PERSONNEL

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§87350. Plan for new mechanism of faculty qualifications; inclusions

The plan for a new mechanism of faculty qualifications being developed by the Chancellor of the California Community Colleges pursuant to Chapter 1465 of the Statutes of 1986 shall include all of the following:

- (a) A transition provision, which would grandfather existing bargaining unit definitions.
- (b) Consideration of projected California demographics.
- (c) Consideration of affirmative action policies and programs.

§87351. Minimum qualifications for service, operative date

The minimum qualifications for service prescribed by this chapter shall become operative on July 1, 1990.

ARTICLE 2. MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS AND HIRING CRITERIA

§87355. Persons authorized to serve under credential; possession of minimum qualifications; regulations

Notwithstanding Section 87356, every person authorized to serve as a community college instructor, librarian, counselor, student personnel worker, supervisor, administrator, or chief administrative officer under a credential shall retain the right to serve under the terms of that credential, and, for that purpose, shall be deemed to possess the minimum qualifications specified for every discipline or service covered by the credential until the expiration of that credential. The board of governors shall adopt regulations as necessary to implement this requirement.

§87536. Faculty members and specified employees; regulation adoption; state-mandated local program

- (a) The board of governors shall adopt regulations to establish and maintain the minimum qualifications for service as a faculty member teaching credit instruction, a faculty member teaching noncredit instruction, a librarian, a counselor, an educational administrator, an extended opportunity programs and services worker, a disabled students programs and services worker, an apprenticeship instructor, and a supervisor of health.

CALIFORNIA EDUCATION CODE SECTIONS ON MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- (b) The Legislature finds and declares that this section does not create a state-mandated local program because compensation of faculty will continue to be determined through the collective bargaining process or meet and confer sessions.

§87357. Minimum qualifications; establishment and maintenance; “discipline”; definition and recommendations

In establishing and maintaining minimum qualifications pursuant to Section 87356, the board of governors shall do all of the following:

- (1) With regard to minimum qualifications for faculty, the board of governors shall consult with, and rely primarily on the advice and judgment of, the statewide Academic Senate. With regard to minimum qualifications for educational administrators, the board of governors shall consult with, and rely primarily on the advice and judgment of, an appropriate statewide organization of administrators. With regard to minimum qualifications for apprenticeship instructors, the board of governors shall consult with, and rely primarily on the advice and judgment of, appropriate apprenticeship teaching faculty and labor organization representatives. In each case, the board of governors shall provide a reasonable opportunity for comment by other statewide representative groups.
  - (2) The board of governors shall establish a process to review at least every three years the continued appropriateness of the minimum qualifications, and the adequacy of the means by which they are administered. The process shall provide for the appointment of a representative group of community college faculty, administrators, students, and trustees to conduct or otherwise assist in the review, including particularly, representatives of academic senates, collective bargaining organizations, and statewide faculty associations. In addition, the group shall be broadly representative of academic and vocational programs in the curriculum from both urban and rural districts, and representative of ethnic minority communities.
- (b) The board of governors, relying primarily upon the advice and judgment of the statewide Academic Senate, shall prescribe by regulation a working definition of the term “discipline” and shall prepare and maintain a list of disciplines that are “reasonably related” to one another, as that phrase is used in the minimum qualifications. The initial list shall be distributed to the community college districts by July 1, 1989, for their use in applying the minimum qualifications for hire.

In formulating advice and recommendations to the board of governors regarding the definition of the term “discipline,” the statewide Academic Senate shall consult with appropriate statewide organizations representing administrators and faculty collective bargaining agents. The statewide Academic Senate shall incorporate the advice of those groups into its recommendations to the board of governors, particularly as it relates to the practical ramifications of any proposed definition of the term “discipline” on issues of reassignment, transfer, and reduction in force. The board of governors, relying primarily upon the advice and judgment of the statewide Academic Senate, shall prepare and maintain a list of disciplines in which the master’s degree is not generally expected or available. The initial list shall be distributed to the community college districts by July 1, 1989, for their use in applying the minimum qualifications for service.

§87358. Review of districts’ application of minimum qualifications

The board of governors shall periodically designate a team of community college faculty, administrators, and trustees to review each community college district’s application of minimum qualifications to faculty and administrators.

§87359. Employment of faculty and administrators not meeting applicable minimum qualifications; process

The board of governors shall adopt regulations setting forth a process authorizing local governing boards to employ faculty members and educational administrators who do not meet the applicable minimum qualifications specified in the regulations adopted by the board of governors pursuant to Section 87356. Unless and until amended pursuant to the process described in Section 87357, the regulations shall require all of the following:

- (a) No one may be hired to serve as a community college faculty member or educational administrator under the authority granted by the regulations unless the governing board determines that he or she possesses qualifications that are at least equivalent to the minimum qualifications specified in regulations of the board of governors adopted pursuant to Section 87356. The criteria used by the governing board in making the determination shall be reflected in the governing board’s action employing the individual.
- (b) The process, as well as criteria and standards by which the governing board reaches its determinations regarding faculty members, shall be developed and agreed upon jointly by representatives of the governing board and the academic senate, and approved by the governing board. The agreed upon process shall include reasonable procedures to ensure that the governing board relies primarily upon the advice and judgment of the academic senate to determine that each individual faculty member employed under the authority granted by the regulations possesses qualifications that are at least equivalent to the applicable minimum qualifications specified in regulations adopted by the board of governors. The process shall further require that the governing board provide the academic senate with an opportunity to present its views to the governing board before the board makes a determination, and that the written record of the decision, including the views of the academic senate, shall be available for review pursuant to section 87358.
- (c) Until a joint agreement is reached and approved pursuant to subdivision (b), the district process in existence on January 1, 1989, shall remain in effect.

§87359.5. Review of job relevance requirements; time

By May 1, 1989, the board of governors shall have reviewed or contracted for review of, the job relevance of the requirements of Sections 87408, 87408.5, 87408.6, and any other physical fitness tests or examinations, and other conditions of employment, applicable to community college personnel.

ARTICLE 3. HIRING CRITERIA

§87360. Development of criteria; inclusions; agreement; process in effect prior to agreement; times

- (a) In establishing hiring criteria for faculty and administrators, district governing boards shall, no later than July, 1990, develop criteria that include a sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socioeconomic, cultural, disability, and ethnic backgrounds of community college students.
- (b) No later than July 1, 1990, hiring criteria, policies, and procedures for new faculty members shall be developed and agreed upon jointly by representatives of the governing board, and the academic senate, and approved by the governing board.
- (c) Until a joint agreement is reached and approved pursuant to subdivision (b), the existing district process in existence on January 1, 1989, shall remain in effect.

He stated they were both well deserving of the recognition.

Board Member Reports

Trustee Hart reported the following:

- He stated he attended the SDICCCA meeting on March 3rd and the members' concerns were related to the increase in deficit. He stated the members proposed that the deficit be done across the board and not just for growth producing districts as it would affect all SDICCCA members' schools. SDICCCA members asked all colleges to write to the Chancellor's Office and request any reduction in funds be done across the board and not just for growth colleges. He suggested that a recommendation be made for the letter.

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers spoke and stated he has communicated with the Chancellor's office via a letter.

Trustee Ramirez reported the following:

- Met with Senator Denise Ducheny regarding the budget crisis. She stated Senator Ducheny mentioned she heard testimony from former ASG President and current state representative Frank Fernandez as to the issues with the budget crisis. - Announced he would not be attending the April Board meeting as he had a conference in Boston. He stated the vice president would be attending in his absence.

Monthly Financial Report

VP for Business Services John Lau reported the following:

- On the issue of the property tax, he reported the state determined there was a shortfall by over reporting some of the districts. He stated the issues are how to allocate and how to recover the money in growth or FTE size. He stated if they choose to fund full growth, IVC would receive the 4% anticipated growth.
- Reported a budget snapshot stating the budget tends to be worse than actual. He stated he wanted to look at the trend this year. He stated that there are some savings in the budget due to staff not being hired at the beginning of the fiscal year or other adjustments throughout the year. He stated some things are consistent with the budget on certain expenditures; however, there is no real clear revenue amount and IVC tends to take the middle of the road approach. He stated the concern was if IVC continues to use reserve monies to balance the budget, the third year reserves could be at 7% and then the year after reserves could potentially be gone.

Trustee Acuña stated it was prudent to budget for objectives.

- He has had meetings with most of the departments to explain the new budget perspective. He stated delaying the budget process will give the Business Office a better idea of where the district stands. He explained the Business Office does not create the budget rather it facilitates the budget and limits the revenue that can be spent. He stated the departments need to create their budgets and work with the area vice president and assess revenue with benchmarks to achieve the departments' objectives.

- On the consent agenda, he discussed Resolution No. 14056. (Please see Resolution No. 14056 for the discussion).

President's Update

Interim Superintendent/President Gary Rodgers reported the following:

- In December there was a two-person team that came from ACCJC to discuss some nursing issues via a complaint. He stated the district received the final draft the first part of February. He stated he was pleased with the outcome and read the conclusion of the letter which stated:

"Having reviewed the available information, and interviewed the College administrators and staff, the team concluded that the allegations contained in the anonymous complaint appear to be unsubstantiated. More importantly, the team concluded that the College has not violated ACCJC policies as these pertain specifically to program integrity and the requirement that institutions provide an internal process and procedure for students grievance and complaints. The team commends the College for its earnest efforts to ensure that the information as contained in the Nursing Student Program Handbook continues to be understood by every student. The team comments the College in its goal to clearly communicate with external constituencies about its programs and students."

- A second evaluation drill was conducted on Tuesday, March 11th. He stated the time from the alarm to the all clear signal took 11 minutes noting it was 10 minutes faster than the first drill last semester. He stated some concerns were presented such as the alarm not being heard throughout the entire campus. He stated the Board would receive a recommendation and cost for the alarm system to be brought to code at its next Board meeting.
- He discussed Resolution No. 14053 (Please see Resolution No. 14053 for the discussion).
- Announced Disability Awareness Day on Wednesday, April 9th, on campus.

Student Exchange Program Presentation

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers introduced History/Political Science Professor Eric Jacobson.

Professor Jacobson presented a PowerPoint presentation on Syria. Some of the highlights included sharing the resolution passed by the Board last April concerning the student exchange program. He discussed some sample policy forms and informed the Board that a resolution regarding a student exchange with Syria would be presented for their approval at the April Board meeting.

Professor Jacobson stated the attraction for Syrian students to come to IVC is that schools in the U.S. are more challenging than those in the Middle East. He stated community colleges would prepare Syrian students for U.S. universities. He stated there was a real need for IVC offerings.

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers stated the forthcoming resolution would be to establish a sister college in both institutions in Syria. He asked Trustees to give him a call with any questions.

Trustee Galindo thanked him for the work and enlightening presentation and stated she was hopeful in those who believe in the issues of peace stating that not everyone is the same. She stated her hope was that by these exchanges that IVC could accept the ideas and reduce the ungodly hatred that seems to perpetuate.

Discussion

Trustee Medina made a motion to approve and accept the resolution. Trustee Acuña made the second motion.

Trustee Medina asked if the report would be placed on the website.

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers stated that it would be placed on the website.

From the President's Report:

Interim Superintendent/President discussed Resolution No. 14053 dealing with the ARCC report. He stated the report had been reviewed last year for 2007 and this time a comparison from 2007 for the 2008 report would be reviewed as mandated by AB1417. He stated administrators have been discussing the report at their meetings and analyzed the data along with the assistance of Dr. Robin Ying and Dawn Chun. He stated the report is designed by the Chancellor's Office and the office has developed indicators. The report will then go to legislators. He stated the report would be posted on the website and set a standard of accountability. The report does not rank one college against another and it does not tie our performance with another one. He stated there are five indicators and include demographics. He reported the summary of this year's ARCC report shows that IVC is above average in its statistical indicator in two areas and below average in three areas. He stated that data collection is imperative to have and has worked with IVC's Research Analyst Dawn Chun. He stated that the Dean of Technology has been given specific duties in the area of information technology alone. He stated Dawn Chun has been the ACCESO Director for over three years and has had the responsibility for research and distance education. He stated that Dawn Chun will be relieved of her ACCESO duties to be the full time researcher and there will be changes in the data collection process to ensure clean data. He stated the 2008 report would probably change. He stated Basic Skills has two deficiencies noted and having a Basic Skills Coordinator will assist in correcting those issues. He stated the coordinator would be able to infuse the $600,000 plus VTEA funds to do basic skills and those will dovetail into the master planning. He stated the Board will have the newest information as soon as it is updated.

Trustee Galindo asked when he planned to get the information out to the individual school districts.

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers stated the 2007 information is ready now.

Interim Superintendent/President Rodgers stated the with the researcher's change, the updated information could be done within the next 30 days.

Trustee Ramirez stated the school districts place the report on their website and IVC should do the same to allow for accessibility.

Trustee Galindo stated that in Trustee Ramirez's school district many students end up at Arizona Western College. Trustee Galindo noted that Niland and Calipatria have students attending College of the Desert. She stated this report would help IVC attract more students.

Discussion

During Open Session, the announcement was made that Trustee Acuña made a motion to approve and accept the resolution with the amendments. Trustee Hart made the second motion.

From the Monthly Financial Report:

He stated that Resolution No. 14056 had some changes due to two vendors withdrawing their bids due to clerical error. He stated there was a protest on one of the bids and would like to discuss that issue during closed session.

Architect Jimmy Sanders spoke and pointed out the positive things about the bid. He stated there is good coverage and there are several different contractors for each bid. He stated a positive element was that 53% of the bids awarded would go to local subcontractors. He stated he would be working with the contractors for the next 490 days.

Niel Pollock from Nielsen Construction stated the economy has pendulum swings and IVC is benefitting from that swing in terms of having a great turnout for bid packages. He stated the pad is ready to go and there will be some construction noise as soon as the bids are approved by the Board.

Legal Counsel Frank Oswalt spoke and stated he proposed to discuss the protest in closed session and asked that Resolution No. 14056 be pulled and approved after closed session.

Resolution No. 14058: Memorandum of Understanding between the City of Calexico, County of Imperial, Calexico Unified School District, and Imperial Valley College to share the City's Revenue Sharing Payment to be Provided by the Manzanita Band of Kumeyaay Indians from a potential Tribal Casino in Calexico

Discussion

Trustee Medina asked if this was a typical arrangement as far as the percentages noted.

VP for Business Services Lau stated that agreement came about through partnerships with John Kennedy and meetings with IVC's legal counsel and the Calexico city manager. He stated the percentages were approximations of what IVC would receive.

Legal Counsel Frank Oswald spoke and stated this agreement was used like a pass through. He stated the negotiated amount is for $2 million a year and IVC would get a certain percentage of that money. He stated IVC is a small entity and should consider itself grateful to get a percentage. He stated the casino would be paying that percentage over the life of the casino. He stated the casino will need to have trained employees and as he last recalled the casino would have about 2,400 employees. He stated an employer of that size would be a tremendous help for the valley.

VP Lau stated if the casino was successful and there would be discussion about other donations that could be provided to IVC. He stated the hearing for the casino is scheduled before the County Board of Supervisors on March 27th.

Trustee Medina asked if there were conditions to the agreement. VP Lau stated there were none.

Trustee Acuña questions the impact, if any, on the district's future budget allocation from the state.

Legal Counsel Oswald stated that the state would require legislation to reduce allocations to IVC.

Legal Counsel Oswald stated that IVC will remain optimistic until it becomes a reality noting there are substantial roadblocks including resistance from other tribes and the possible obstacles that could arise as this would be an off reservation casino.

Trustee Ramirez stated in the past the position of the local tribe in her community was "no comment" noting it was an interesting position considering the off reservation legalities.

Resolution

WHEREAS, the Manzanita Band of Kumeyaay Indians ("Tribe") will seek approval from the Bureau of Indian Affairs of an application pursuant to Section 5 of the Indian Reorganization Act, 25 U.S.C. § 465, the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, 25 U.S.C. § 2701, et seq., and the National Environmental Policy Act, 42 U.S.C. § 4321, et seq., requesting that the United States accept trust title to a parcel in the City of Calexico ("City") to conduct Indian gaming on such parcel; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to a favorable vote by the citizens of the City of Calexico in June 2005, the City and the Tribe negotiated a Memorandum of Understanding ("City-Tribe MOU") to mitigate impacts that a casino could have on the City; and

WHEREAS, the City-Tribe MOU was approved at a public meeting held by the City of Calexico which was attended by representatives of several local entities, including the County of Imperial and the Calexico Unified School District in February of 2006; and

WHEREAS, the City-Tribe MOU contains provisions which require the Tribe to perform the appropriate level of environmental review and mitigation and also provides for various payments to the City of Calexico to off-set the impacts that the casino will have on the City; and

WHEREAS, the plain language of Section 3.2 of the City-Tribe MOU contains a provision that the Tribe will pay the City of Calexico an annual Revenue Sharing Payment ("RSP") into the General Fund of the City in the amount of $2,000,000.00 for the "unspecified impacts to the City"; and

WHEREAS, in the spirit of cooperation and to help off-set any potential impacts to the County of Imperial, Calexico Unified School District and IVC, the City of Calexico has proposed to share its Revenue Sharing Payment from the Tribe pursuant to the arrangement as specified in the MOU; and

WHEREAS, the City of Calexico agrees to share the Revenue Sharing Payment detailed in section 3.2 of the City-Tribe MOU according to the following arrangement: County of Imperial, 18.6%; Calexico Unified School District, 30%; and IVC 9.2%; and

WHEREAS, this MOU is intended solely as a funding arrangement between the local entities and is not a "project" as defined by the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA"); and

WHEREAS, this MOU is based on the estimated size and description of future development of an Indian gaming facility in the City of Calexico; and

WHEREAS, no specific timeline has been identified for construction of the gaming facility at this time and no federal or state approvals have been obtained by the Tribe yet; and

WHEREAS, this MOU is not intended and shall not alter any provision of the City-Tribe MOU and only addresses the arrangement to share a portion of the City of Calexico's RSP with the County of Imperial, Calexico Unified School District and IVC;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Trustees approves the Memorandum of Understanding and provides authorization to the Interim Superintendent/President to execute this Memorandum of Understanding on behalf of the District.

Resolution No. 14059: Commendation for Gary Rodgers

Trustee Galindo stated that she would have liked to have seen this resolution as a standalone as Gary deserves the recognition. She thanked him and appreciated him for his attentiveness to the questions she had and noted he was more than accommodating. She stated the short time he was interim was done well.

Trustee Medina commended Gary for the hard work and "keeping the ship afloat" and directing it in a positive direction.

He stated this past year has taught him that is not the case and applauds the Trustees for their work, stating the bottom line is that it is everyone's responsibility to serve the students.

ASG President Lopez thanked Gary for being student oriented. He stated that in the beginning of his ASG presidency Gary would put him at ease by joking with him or speaking to him. He stated Gary made him feel comfortable. He stated when Gary asked him from which high school he had graduated he knew Gary was from Holtville (the rivals of Imperial)!

VP for Student Services Jaime spoke from administration side and stated Gary has been great as a colleague and has brought a real genuine atmosphere of trust, openness, and calm even with the tough issues. He stated Executive Council did not always agree; however the students were always in the forefront.

Board President Ramirez presented him with a succulent plant. She stated per Gary's request, she would not read the resolution and was glad to see he received the accolades he deserved and added her appreciation in assuming the duties of Interim President.

AP 4030 Academic Freedom

Reference:

Title 5, Section 51023;

Accreditation Standard II.A.7

The common good of society depends upon the search for knowledge and its free exposition. Academic freedom is essential to both these purposes and is the right of reasonable exercise of civil liberties and responsibilities in an academic setting. As such it protects each person's freedom to express opinions both inside and outside the classroom, to practice one's profession as teacher and scholar, librarian, or counselor, to carry out such scholarly and teaching activities as one believes will contribute to and disseminate knowledge, to express and disseminate the results of scholarly activities in a reasonable manner, and to select, acquire, disseminate and use documents in the exercise of one's professional responsibilities, all without interference and all with due and proper regard for the academic freedom of others.

Academic freedom does not require neutrality, but rather makes commitment possible. However, academic freedom does not confer legal immunity, nor does it diminish the obligations of practitioners to meet their duties, their responsibilities, and their scholarly obligations to base research and teaching on an honest search for knowledge.
