1. The IVC Catalog of Classes is looking at extending its coverage to a year. This means the budget will be easier to plan, and students can also plan their classes easier.

The schools reserves have continued to go down, as we have gone over budget. The big question is how to grow them. If you can answer this

- please join us at the next Budget & Fiscal meeting scheduled Wednesday, November 20 (a meeting time was not provided).
- The State has for several years not given us the money they had promised.
 However, should the State fail to pay the money promised within the year, they need not pay at all. This makes planning a budget even more difficult.
